FIRST BUSINESS SESSION: Friday afternoon, November 3, 1995

1:00 p.m. The Rt. Rev. Allen L. Bartlett, Jr., Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, presided at the celebration of the Holy Eucharist at the Cathedral Church of the Saviour, 38th and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. The Rt. Rev. Franklin D. Turner, Bishop Suffragan, and the Rt. Rev. Mark Pae concelebrated. The Rt. Rev. James H. Ottley, Anglican Observer to the United Nations, was preacher.

Bishop Bartlett opened the first business session at 3:00 p.m. with prayer. Bishop Bartlett gave the Bishop's Address, which is attached to these minutes as Appendix 9.

The Bishop appointed William C. Bullitt, Esq., Chancellor of the Diocese, Parliamentarian. He then nominated Nancy S. Ritter as Secretary of Convention (DC 3.2.1). This was confirmed. Mrs. Ritter's appointment of Jessica Powers as Assistant Secretary also was confirmed.

The Bishop called upon Margaret F. Schneider, Chair of the Committee for Convention Arrangements, who presented her committee's memo on arrangements.

Bishop Bartlett drew attention to the Standing Rules for Convention, contained in deputies' packets.

The Rev. Anne Ritchings, Chair of Dispatch of Business, announced that R-5, On the Trial of a Priest or Deacon, would be presented after the Consent Calendar, and that R-8, On the Interim Rector, had been withdrawn. The agenda was then approved with these changes.

The Secretary reported that unfinished business from the 211th Convention was filed by title (Appendix 11).

The Secretary called Convention's atttention to the following items:

1. DC 2.9: Canon of Courtesy. This is attached to these minutes as Appendix 2.
2. SR 26: Concerning Religious Professed in Orders. This is attached to these minutes as Appendix 3.
3. SO IV.6: Youth Representation. This is attached to these minutes as Appendix 4.

4. SR 25: Circulation of Literature. This is attached to these minutes as Appendix 5.

The Secretary called Convention's attention to RE 27, Clergy Not Eligible to Vote but having seat and voice (App. 50)

The Secretary reported that Christ Church, Pottstown, had not paid its 1994 assessment; according to diocesan canons, the parish's lay deputation could not be seated until Convention voted to do so. The Very Rev. Dr. John R.N. Tinklepaugh moved that Christ Church be seated. The motion was adopted.

The Secretary reported that five churches had not paid their 1995 assessments: St. David's, Manayunk; St. Peter's, Phoenixville; Christ Church, Pottstown; Annunciation; and St. Bartholomew's. According to diocesan canon, their lay deputations would not be seated unless Convention voted otherwise. Philip C. McMaster, chair of Finance and Property and of Claims of Laity to Seats, said that St. David's and St. Peter's had said they would pay their assessments by the end of the year. The Rev. Ludwick Gooding made a motion that Christ Church, Annunciation, and St. Bartholomew's not be seated. Following debate, the motion was defeated.

The Rev. Glenn M. Matis, Chair of the Committee on Claims of Clergy to Seats, reported that there were no claims to seats by clergy (DC2.2.2.3, SR #1, SO.II.5(5a).

Christopher S. Hart, Chair of the Resolutions Committee, gave his report (App. 55). In addition, Mr. Hart recommended approval of R14 Enabling Resolution for the Election of A Coadjutor, which had been submitted after the resolution deadline and was not discussed at the resolution hearings. To clarify some misunderstandings, he noted that R13 called for a conference to be held to discuss adding Queen Elizabeth I to the Calendar of Lesser Feasts and Fasts, and that the resolution did not recommend adding her to the Calendar.

R14 Enabling Resolution for the Election of A Coadjutor was moved by the Rev. Louis H. Temme and adopted unanimously:

R-14: RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania consent to the election of a Bishop Coadjutor for this Diocese, in accordance with the request of Bishop Bartlett;

FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Standing Committee be authorized to appoint a Diocesan Profile/Bishop Coadjutor Search Committee and a Transition Committee drawing nominations from the clergy and laity of the Diocese;

FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Search Committee will be appointed in December 1995 and begin its work on January first to produce a written Profile of the Diocese using the broadest possible methods of gathering input to determine the future mission and ministry of this Diocese and the sort of Episcopal leadership it needs to guide it in achieving its goals, and present this Profile to the Standing Committee for its approval before distribution; and secondly to present a slate of suitable candidates who match the profile of the leadership needs of the Diocese;

FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Transition Committee will operate during the transition period to provide support for our current Bishops and Diocesan Staff, make preparations for the Electing Convention, support our Bishop-Elect and Family, plan for the Service of Consecration, plan for the Retirement Celebration for our current Bishop, and communicate information about the transition to the Diocese and the media;

FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Search Committee publish its slate of candidates including their responses to substantive questions based on the Diocesan Profile, as well as biographical information, with a deadline goal of July 31, 1996;

FURTHER RESOLVED; That this 212th Convention reconvene on Saturday, October 19, 1996, for the purpose of electing a Bishop Coadjutor, provided the necessary consents of Bishops and Standing Committees have been received, and the work of the Search Committee has been completed. This electing Convention will be preceded on Saturday, October 12, 1996, with an Information Day where clergy and lay deputies can meet and hear the candidates in person. The Standing Committee may alter timelines and deadlines if requested by the Search Committee;

FURTHER RESOLVED: That because of required background checks, nominations from the floor of the Electing Convention will not be permitted. Candidates may be nominated by petition no later than seven weeks prior to the election.

The Rev. Anne Ritchings, Chair of Dispatch of Business, moved the Consent Calendar: Resolutions R-1 through R-4:

R-1: RESOLUTION OF COURTESY: THE REV. WILLIAM ASHLEY AND THE REV. LYNN LAMPMAN

RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania welcome the Rev. William Ashley and the Rev. Lynn Lampman and extend to them the privilege of seat and voice at this Convention.

R-2: RESOLUTION OF COURTESY: ST. MARTIN'S KOREAN CONGREGATION & MAR THOMA CHURCHES

RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania welcome the representatives of St. Martin's Korean Congregation, meeting at St. Martin's, Oak Lane, and of the Mar Thoma Church of Philadelphia, meeting at 2060 Orthodox Street, and of the Bethel Mar Thoma Church, meeting at Palmetto & Levick Streets, and extend to those representatives seat and voice in this Convention; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the representatives of these congregations be invited to sit with the Pennypack Deanery where their churches are located.

R-3 ON ORDINATION ANNIVERSARIES:

WHEREAS the Diocese of Pennsylvania has been blessed by the ministry of many clergy who have served God in His Church for many years;

BE IT RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention return thanks to Almighty God for these clergy who, this year, are celebrating milestone anniversaries of their ordination to the priesthood.

R-4 ON RECENTLY RETIRED CLERGY:

WHEREAS, the following clergy long active in the ministry of the Church have retired since the 211th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

BE IT RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention honor them for their long service in this branch of the Holy Catholic Church and pray for their continued ministry in another phase of God's Work:

The Rev. Dr. Peyton G. Craighill
The Very Rev. John F. Hardwick
The Rev. Dr. Charles Long, Jr.
The Rev. Canon Charles L.L. Poindexter
The Rev. Robert D. Keel
The Rev. Stanley E. Johnson
The Rev. Charles O. Moore
The Rev. Daniel K. Sullivan

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the clergy named.

The Consent Calendar was passed unanimously. Bishop Bartlett noted the presence of the Rev. Neal Hubbard, retired priest living in California; of Dean Hardwick; and of Mrs. Helen White, who retired from her position as Assistant to the Bishop for Christian Education in June 1995.

R-5, PROPOSED CHANGES TO THE DIOCESAN CONSTITUTION AND CANONS: ON THE TRIAL OF A PRIEST OR DEACON, was moved by William C. Bullitt.

RESOLVED, that effective as of January 1, 1996, Canon 22 is amended and restated to read as follows:

CANON 22: ON THE TRIAL OF A PRIEST OR DEACON

SEC. 22.1: Discipline of Priests and Deacons

All procedures for discipline of Priests and Deacons in this Diocese shall be governed by Title IV of the Canons of the General Convention as supplemented by these Canons.

SEC. 22.2: The Church Attorney

Every three years the Convention shall elect from among the laypersons of the Diocese learned in the law a Church Attorney, who shall hold office until his or her successor shall be elected. If the Church Attorney shall die or resign at a time when the Convention shall not be in session, the Standing Committee shall appoint from the laypersons of the Diocese learned in the law a Church Attorney, to hold office until the next meeting of the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Church Attorney to act as the official prosecutor in all Ecclesiastical Trials under this Canon. The Church Attorney shall conduct to a conclusion any trial in which he or she may be actually engaged at the time of the expiration of his or her term of office.

SEC. 22.3: The Ecclesiastical Trial Court

Sec. 22.3.1: The Triers and Court Members

(a) Every three years the Convention shall elect nine laypersons from among the confirmed adult communicants of the Church in good standing, having domicile in this Diocese, and ten clergy, actually as well as canonically resident in the Diocese and more than ten years in Holy Orders, no one of whom shall be a member of the Standing Committee, to serve as Triers from whom shall be established the Ecclesiastical Trial Court (the "Court").

(b) The five members of the clergy and the four members of the laity receiving the highest number of votes shall constitute the membership of the Court and shall be judges of the law and the facts in the trial of a Priest or Deacon. The remaining Triers shall serve as alternates in the event of a vacancy in the Court as provided in Section 22.4

(c) In the event of a tie vote in the fourth position (as to the laity) or the fifth position (as to the clergy), the fourth or fifth member of the Court (as the case may be) shall be selected by drawing lots from among those tied.

Sec. 22.3.2: The Presiding Judge

The Court shall annually elect, within two months following the Convention, one of its members to serve as Presiding Judge for the ensuing year.

Sec. 22.3.3: The Lay Assessors

The Presiding Judge shall appoint, subject to the approval of the members of the Court, at least one but not more than three Lay Assessors to give the Court an opinion on any question of law, procedure or evidence upon which the Court or any member thereof, or either party, shall desire an opinion. Lay Assessors shall have no vote.

SEC. 22.4: Challenges to the Members of the Court and Vacancies

Sec. 22.4.1: Challenges to the Members of the Court

The Church Attorney and the Respondent may challenge for cause any of the Court members and the Court shall pass upon the sufficiency of such challenges. The Church Attorney and the Respondent also shall be allowed each to make three peremptory challenges during the selection of Court members. If the number of the Court is reduced to less than nine, the procedures for filling vacancies shall be followed as set forth in Sec. 22.4.2 below. These proceedings shall be repeated until the number of unchallenged Court members reaches nine.

Sec. 22.4.2: Court Vacancies

(a) Court vacancies, whether occurring before or after commencement of a trial, shall be filled from among the remaining Triers. Vacancies among the clergy members of the Court shall be filled from among the remaining clergy Triers, with the clergy person who received the highest number of votes at the time of election filling the first vacancy and so forth. Vacancies among the lay members of the Court shall be filled from among the remaining lay Triers with the lay person who received the highest number of votes at the time of election filling the first vacancy and so forth.

(b) If at any time or from any cause the number of Court members is reduced to less than nine and an insufficient number of Triers remains from whom to appoint Court members, the Presiding Judge shall certify the same to the Standing Committee who shall then appoint such additional clergy or additional laity, based on the criteria set forth in Sec. 22.3.1 as may be necessary to fill the vacancy.

Sec. 22.4.3: Vacancy in the Office of Presiding Judge

Vacancies in the offfice of Presiding Judge for any cause, whether occurring before or after commencement of a trial, shall be filled by vote of the majority of the Court, immediately after the Court vacancy has been filled as provided in Sec. 22.4.2 above.

Sec. 22.4.4: Vacancy in the position of Church Attorney

If a vacancy in the position of Church Attorney occurs during a trial, the trial shall be adjourned and the Standing Committee shall appoint a Church Attorney.

Sec. 22.4.5 Vacancies Occurring During a Trial

If a vacancy in any of the offices described in this section should happen during a trial, after the vacancy has been filled as herein provided, the trial shall begin de novo and forthwith proceed as in the case of a new trial.

FURTHER RESOLVED: That effective January 1, 1996 and until the Diocesan Convention to be held in 1997:

1. The Church Advocate last elected shall be known as and shall carry out the duties of the Church Attorney; and

2. The five Triers last elected who had the highest number of votes (as reported in the Journal of the 211th Convention) shall constitute the clergy members of the Ecclesiastical Trial Court and the remaining Triers last elected shall constitute the alternates for purposes of Canon 22.4. Because there was a tie vote in the fifth position, the person who shall serve as the fifth clergy member of the Court shall be selected as provided in Canon 22.3.1 (c).

The Rev. Robert Lorenz moved to eliminate "having domicile in this Diocese" and "actually as well as" in Sec. 22.3.1, noting that this wording would exclude clergy canonically resident in this diocese but living in another diocese and laity who are members of diocesan congregations but reside outside the diocese. Mr. Bullitt proposed that the Committee on Constitution and Canons study the matter and bring recommended changes in wording to the 213th Convention. Fr. Lorenz then withdrew his motion, and R-5 was adopted as submitted.

The Secretary of Convention, Chair of Committee on Elections (SO.V), called upon Richard Ihrig, Chair of the Nominating Committee, who moved the slate of nominees. (App. 6)

The Rev. Ludwick E. Gooding withdrew as nominee for Standing Committee. The Rev. Rudolph A. Moore nominated the Rev. Dr. Herbert E. Rowe to the Church Foundation. The Rev. Scott M. Hoogerhyde nominated the Rev. Frederic Guyott, III, to the Church Foundation.

Judge of Elections Jefferson Moak gave instructions for the first ballot.

Standing Committee: vote for one clergy person and one lay person to serve five years.

Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions: vote for one clergy person and one lay person to serve three years.

General Convention Deputies: vote for four clergy persons and four lay persons to represent the Diocese at the 1997 General Convention.

Church Foundation Board: Convention may nominate up to two clergy persons and eight lay persons from whom the Board will elect one clergy person and four lay persons to serve for three years.

Lay Triers: vote for nine lay persons to serve for two years: the top four vote-getters will serve on the court in case of the trial of a clergy person; the other five will be alternates in case a member of the court is unable to serve.

The Secretary of Convention gave the report from the Registrars: clergy registerd 218, parishes, 148.

4:00 p.m. The first ballot was cast, and a hymn was sung.

Special order I: Introduction of New Clergy

The Rev. Melford E. Holland, Jr., introduced the clergy new to the Diocese since the 211th Convention. (RE-28, App. 51)

Bishop Bartlett then moved the confirmation of four nominees to the Cathedral Chapter for a four-year term:

The Rev. Randolph Williamson
The Rev. Bruce H. Jacobson
Mr. Robert Coughlin
Mr. Everett Gillison

The nominees were confirmed.

Bishop Bartlett then moved the nomination of the following to the Christmas Fund:

The Rev. Stanley A Powell
Mr. Samuel H. Ballam, Jr.
Mrs. Donaldeen Penny
Mrs. Karey B. Smith
Mr. Ralph B. Stanko
Mrs. Lyn Werner

The nominees were confirmed.

R-6, ON CLERGY COMPENSATION, ASSESSMENTS, AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE was moved by William C. Bullitt, and adopted.

A. Proposed by the Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions: (Amendment of subsections of Canon 4.5 (The Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions) (pp. 19 & 20), Canon 7.5 (Clerical Compensation, Assessments and Financial Assistance) (pp. 26-28), and Canon 9.3 (Parishes Coming under the Missionary Administration) (pp. 33 & 34).

RESOLVED, that the following subsections of Canons 4.5, 7.5, 7.6, and 9.3 are amended as noted:

4.5.3 (in the last line), change "salaries" to read "compensation."

7.5.1 - The Convention shall from time to time, by Standing Resolution, establish schedules of the minimum compensation, including salaries, payments for health and life insurance and additional material provisions or expense allowances to be received by all Clergy engaged in ~~the~~ full or part-time ministry, in the employ of the Diocese, its parishes, or its missions.

7.5.2 - The Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions, in these Canons hereinbefore provided for shall estimate and recommend to each Stated Convention the amount believed to be necessary, in the form of grants or loans, in the next ensuing claendar year; ~~in order~~ (a) to augment to the minima, as above established, the compensation ~~salaries~~ of clergy whose churches are unable to pay that compensation ~~those salaries~~ in full, (b) for making such payments of Church Pension Fund assessments as may be necessary to prevent in this Diocese the existence of such arrearages in Church Pension Fund assessments as might impair the rights of the clergy and their surviving spouses and children under the Church Pension Fund system, and (c) to provide interim financial assistance ~~in the form of grants or loans~~ to displaced clergy as may be requested by the clergy in writing for relocation or other necessary expenses. ~~and~~ The Commission shall likewise recommend an amount to provide financial assistance grants to clergy and parishes to facilitate clergy sabbath leaves, provided the Commission and the Bishop are assured that neither the clergy nor the congregation can meet these financial needs themselves.

7.5.5 - The Treasurer shall, upon recommendation of the Commission, make payments of loans or grants: (a) to augment the compensation ~~salaries, additional material provisions, and expense allowances~~ of clergy to amounts not exceeding the minima fixed by the Convention (See Resolutions of Convention), ~~The Treasurer shall also, upon like recommendation, make the payments of~~ (b) to cover arrearages in Church Pension Fund assessments, and ~~the grants or loans~~ (c) to provide assistance to the clergy above provided for.

7.5.7 - Any Convention, upon recommendation of the Commission, may suspend the right of representation in the Diocesan Convention of any parish failing to pay its clergy the minimum compensation ~~salary~~ fixed by the Convention, such suspension to continue until terminated by the Convention itself.

7.6.6 - DELETE: This is now covered by the new provisions of 9.3

9.3.1 - Any parish (a) which is delinquent in its payments to the Church Pension Fund for a period of six months or more, (b) whose rector or other clergy is or are not in receipt of an overall amount equal to the combined total minimum compensation ~~including salary, additional material provisions, and expense allowances~~ required by Resolution of the Convention (unless relieved of this obligation pursuant to Canon 4.5.4), and which is also unable to comply with the requirements of the Convention for receiving aid from the Clergy Financial Assistance Assessment, or ~~(b)~~ (c) which is unable adequately to maintain its property or support all other functions and services normally expected from a place of worship, shall by such fact be held to have applied to the bishop to become an aided parish hereinunder, and to have subjected itself to the requirements of this Canon 9.3. Such parish shall thereupon be eligible to receive aid from any diocesan source, missionary or otherwise. The Diocesan Council shall be responsible for determining when the facts listed under (a), ~~and~~ (b) and (c) actually exist in any parish and so certifying to the Bishop.

R-7 ON RETIRED CLERGY MEDICAL INSURANCE was moved by William C. Bullitt and adopted.

B. Proposed by the Commission on Finance and Property: Additions to Canon 7.4 (Collections of Assessments) (p. 25).

RESOLVED, that the first sentence of Canon 7.4.1 be amended to read as follows:

"The Executive Office, on or before November 1st of each year, shall notify the proper officers of each parish, mission, or chapel of the amounts of the Assessments for the Support of the Episcopate, for Clergy Financial Assistance, and for Retired Clergy Medical Insurance."

RESOLVED, that the first sentence of Canon 7.4.2 be amended to read as follows:

"Not later than two months before the meeting of each Stated Convention any parish which has not paid and does not expect to be able to pay before that Convention its Assessments for the Support of the Episcopate, for Clergy Financial Assistance, and for Retired Clergy Medical Insurance of the previous year, but desires to have representation in such Convention, shall submit to the Committee on Finance and Property of the Diocesan Council any considerations which the parish authorities believe should move the Convention to grant it representation in spite of such failure."

The Treasurer's report, given by Andrew McA. Hunter, Treasurer, was accepted, and is attached to these minutes as R29A Appendix 52.

Philip McMaster, Chair of Finance and Property, referred to his report RE 20 (App. 43). He then moved R-BUD-96. Arlene McGurk, Chair of the Program Budget Committee, spoke to the resolution.

R-BUD-96 ON THE PROPOSED 1996 DIOCESAN PROGRAM BUDGET
RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania adopt the proposed Diocesan Program Budget for 1996, as presented by the Diocesan Program Budget Committee and approved for presentation by Diocesan Council; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, recognizing the tithe as the biblical standard of giving, adopt a range of 10 to 15 percent of 1994 Net Disposable Budget Income as the goal for each parish and mission to support the 1996 Diocesan Program and Assessments, with the minimum asking being the 1995 year total giving to the diocese; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania adopt a formula for allocating the assessments based upon Net Disposable Budget Income of each parish as it relates to the sum of all parishes' Net Disposable Budget Income multiplied by the total assessment amounts; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania establish a deadline of December 15, 1995, for submission of parish pledges for the year 1996.

A proposed amendment to strike the words "with the minimum asking being the 1995 year total giving to the diocese" was defeated after debate. The budget was approved as presented.

SPECIAL ORDER II: Report from St. Dismas Mission. The Rev. Julius Jackson, the new vicar of the Mission, spoke of his ministry at Graterford Prison.(App. 57)

William Carr, on behalf of the Vice-Chair of the Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions, moved R-A, ON CLERGY FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE ASSESSMENT, which was adopted as presented.

RESOLVED: That the Clergy Financial Assistance Assessment be continued at the level of $60,000 for 1996: $40,000 of the assessment to meet basic financial needs of the clergy and the remaining $20,000 of the assessment to continue building a Sabbatical Leave Fund to help parishes/institutions that cannot alone support a sabbatical for their clergy.

Mr. Carr then moved R-B, ON PARISH COMPENSATION 1996, which was adopted as presented.

RESOLVED: That range midpoints of cash compensation (note 1) to become effective January 1, 1996, be:

Ranges shall extend 22.5% above and below the midpoint; thus, for each range, the Minimum shall be 77.5% of the midpoint and the Maximum shall be 122.5% of the midpoint. For full-time diocesan interns starting in the middle of the calendar year, the Minimum for newly ordained deacons shall be 81% of the midpoint for Level A; and for priested interns in the second year of their internship, the Minimum shall be 77.5% of the midpoint for Level B.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That compensation guidelines for full-time assistants be determined as follows: an "assistant," for purposes of this resolution, is defined as an ordained priest serving a congregation in a capacity other than that of priest in charge of that congregation: Position Level B applies to those assistant positions usually filled by newly ordained priests. The appropriate level for those assistant positions with greater responsibility than that of a Level B position should be determined by the Rector and Vestry. The guidelines for that level then apply.

RESOLVED FURTHER:

II. PART TIME CLERGY:

That compensation guidelines for priests who work part-time (other than as supply priests) be as follows:

Total compensation should be proportionate to the total compensation for a priest holding the same position on a full-time basis. The proportion should be equal to the relative effectiveness expected of the part-time work as compared to that of a comparable full-time priest. "Total compensation" is defined as cash salary plus provision for pension, health and life insurance, housing, and any other compensation-related payments or practices which the parish may adopt for its clergy, such as vacation, holidays, and allowances, but not including reimbursements.

RESOLVED FURTHER:

III. SUPPLY CLERGY

That 1996 guidelines for priests who supply or cover particular services in a congregation be as follows (Note 3):

PER DAY CASH COMPENSATION GUIDELINES

| | Single Service | Multiple Services |
|---|---|---|
| Minimum | $80 | $103 |
| Usual Range | $91-151 | $114-191 |
| Maximum | $168 | $216 |

Explanatory Notes:

(Note 1) The 1996 salary figures have been changed from the 1995 figures to reflect an increase of 2.3% based on the cost of living increase for the 12-month period ending July 31, 1995. Each vestry should designate by resolution an adequate, specific portion of cash compensation to be "housing allowance" in order to permit covered clergy to exclude from (Federal) taxable income any housing costs that are paid directly from gross income. (Housing costs include furnishings, mortgage payments, utilities, and any items normally covered by rent.)

(Note 2) The Position Level for a rector/vicar/interim/priest-in-charge is based upon the corresponding Congregational Size Category, which is based upon two measures: (1) the size of the congregation, i.e., its attendance and number of pledges; (2) the financial strength of the congregation, i.e., its income and its expenditures. Indices for each factor are derived from data in parochial reports. The Financial Index is updated each year to maintain general consistency with the People Index. Except where the Financial Index differs by two or more levels from the People Index, the People Index determines the Congregation Size Category. The table below relates Congregational Size Categories to corresponding People and Financial Indices for 1995 and 1996.

CONGREGATIONAL SIZE CATEGORIES FOR CLERGY COMPENSATION

| Congreg. Size Category | People Index 1995 & 1996 Min. | People Index 1995 & 1996 Max. | Financial Index (Thousands of dollars) 1995 Min. | 1995 Max. | 1996 Min. | 1996 Max. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| C | 0 | 100 | 0 | 115 | 0 | 120 |
| D | 101 | 150 | 116 | 165 | 121 | 180 |
| E | 151 | 200 | 166 | 265 | 181 | 275 |
| F | 201 | 400 | 266 | 475 | 276 | 475 |
| G | 401+ | -- | 476+ | -- | 476+ | -- |

(Note 3) Cash compensation for supply clergy is based upon full-time compensation, and reflects a 2.3% increase from 1995. (It is based on the proposition that there are 263 working days per year and that no payment is due for days not worked.) A congregation is obligated to pay Church Pension Fund assessments for clergy employed for three months or more and who earn $50 or more per month, unless already on pension.

R-9, ON A LENTEN STUDY FOR 1996 was moved by the Rev. Ruth L. Kirk and adopted as presented:

> RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania recommend the study of Christian initiation for the season of Lent 1996 in all the congregations of the diocese.

The Rev. Roger Pickering moved R-10, ON THE PENNSYLVANIA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF. Bishop Turner took the chair while Bishop Bartlett offered a second resolved clause to R-10. R-10 was then adopted with the addition.

> RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania extend its good wishes and congratulations to the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf and offer prayers for its continued work of educating deaf children and serving the wider deaf community in our diocese and elsewhere.
> FURTHER RESOLVED: That this Convention salute and honor the Rev. Roger Pickering for his leadership among the deaf, not only in this Diocese but throughout the Episcopal Church.

R-12 ON COMMUNITY-BASED ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS was moved by the Rev. K. Brewster Hastings and adopted.

> RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania urge all individuals, parishes, and other affiliated institutions within the diocese to invest a tithe of their financial assets in community-based economic development programs.

5:45 p.m. SPECIAL ORDER III: Commissioning of the Diocesan Youth Council. The Council was installed by Bishop Turner.

5:55 p.m. Bishop Bartlett recessed the Convention until 9:00 a.m. Saturday, November 4, 1995. A reception was held at the Newman Center of the University of Pennsylvania and the following were honored as "outstanding Episcopalians: Dr. Emma Lou Benignus, Margaret Heath, Evelyn Rowe, Herbert Van Sciver, the Very Rev. Canon Nancy Wittig, the Rev. Lewis Worrall.

SECOND BUSINESS SESSION: Saturday, November 4, 1995.

7:45 a.m. The Holy Eucharist and the blessing of the Absalom Jones icon were celebrated at the Cathedral Church of the Saviour by the Rt. Rev. Franklin D. Turner.

9:00 a.m. Bishop Bartlett opened the second business session with prayer and the singing of a hymn.

9:10 a.m. Jefferson Moak, Judge of Elections, gave the results of the first ballot. Elected to Clergy Salaries and Pensions was Craig Toedtman; elected as lay deputies to the 1997 General Convention were Jesse Milan, Jr., Esq. and Jane Cosby.

With reference to revised Canon 22 (passed on Friday as R-5, On the Trial of a Priest or Deacon), William C. Bullitt, Esq., Chancellor, moved the following as a "sense of Convention" motion:

> That it is the sense of this Convention that Canon 22.3.2 (b) be construed to > mean that members of the Court be selected from among the triers in order in which elected.

> And that Canon 22.3.1 (c) be construed to mean that alternates be selected in the order in which elected.

The motion passed.

The following were elected in the following order as Ecclesiastical Triers by combined vote of the House: George Soule, Dorothy Cousins, Richard Ihrig, Frances Broadwater, Alfred W. Putnam.

9:40 a.m. Jefferson Moak, Judge of Elections, gave instructions for the second ballot. The Rev. Ann Hockridge and the Rev. Lawrie Hurtt withdrew as nominees as deputies to General Convention. The Rev. John R. Francis withdrew as nominee to Clergy Salaries and Pensions.

9:45 a.m. SPECIAL ORDER IV: Companion Diocese. The Rev. David Funkhouser, Mrs. Margaret Moore, and the Rev. Judith Beck reported on their recent trip to the Diocese of Guatemala.

R-11 ON A COMPANION DIOCESE RELATIONSHIP was moved by the Rev. Judith Beck and adopted.

> RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania endorse the decision of Diocesan Council to enter into a companion relationship with the Diocese of Guatemala for an initial period of three years beginning in 1996 and encourage all congregations to actively support and participate in this relationship.

10:15 a.m. SPECIAL ORDER V: Report of the Bishop Suffragan was given by the Rt. Rev. Franklin D. Turner. (App. 10)

Chair of the Resolutions Committee Christopher Hart reported that one resolution received at the Convention did not fall into the "emergency" category and would be referred to Diocesan Council for action.

10:45 a.m. SPECIAL ORDER VI: Report from the Committee to Combat Racism. Dr. Kay Myers reported on the art exhibit to be held at the Balch Institute during the 1997 General Convention in Philadelphia. Entitled "Art and Religion: the Many Faces of Faith," the exhibit will celebrate the unity of human kinship inherent in the great religious traditions of the world and the rich diversity of ethnic religious expression. (App. 56)

R-13 ON THE INCLUSION OF QUEEN ELIZABETH I IN THE CALENDAR OF LESSER FEASTS AND FASTS was moved by the Rev. Wilifred S. N. Allen-Faiella.

> RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania call for a conference to study the appropriateness of the inclusion of Queen Elizabeth I in the Calendar of Lesser Feasts and Fasts.

An amendment proposed by David Rawson of Good Shepherd, Rosemont, to include "and other significant persons of the Tudor and Stuart eras" after "Queen Elizabeth I" was defeated. After further debate the resolution was defeated in a close vote.

11:05 a.m. SPECIAL ORDER VII: Greetings from the Bishop of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. The Rev. Roy G. Almquist reminded Convention that the proposed Lutheran-Episcopal Concordat will be voted on at the 1997 General Convention of the Epsicopal Church and the national meeting of the ELCA, which also takes place in Philadelphia in 1997. He urged that Lutherans and Episcopalians develop relationships at the "grassroots level."

A hymn was sung.

11:30 a.m. SPECIAL ORDER VIII: Making our congregations accessible to all. Shirley Smith, Chair, Task force on the Church and Persons with Disabilities, gave her report. (App. 48)

The tellers gave the results of the second ballot.

> Elected to the Standing Committee: The Rev. Louis H. Temme and Dr. Margaret M. Stevens.
> Elected to Clergy Salaries and Pensions: the Very Rev. Hugh Dickinson.
> Elected as Deputies to General Convention: The Ven. John Midwood, the Very Rev. Sharline A. Fulton, and Nokomis Wood.

11:45 a.m. Jefferson Moak, Judge of Elections, gave instructions for the third ballot. The Rev. Paulette Schiff withdrew as nominee for General Convention deputy.

Bishop Bartlett, on behalf of the Standing Committee, reminded Convention that forms were included in deputies' packets to nominate members of the Search Committee that will select nominees for bishop coadjutor and that this 212th Convention would reconvene on October 19, 1996, for the purpose of electing the bishop coadjutor.

Bishop Bartlett led Convention in Noonday Prayers with Necrology, which is attached to these minutes as App. 53.

12:10 p.m. SPECIAL ORDER IX: The Rev. Dr. Daniel B. Stevick and the Rev. John Lamb, Chair of the Stevick Library Committee, were introduced. The Bishop thanked Dr. Stevick for the gift of the library to the Diocese.

Dr. Pamela Darling on behalf of herself and the Rev. Larry Snyder spoke to RE-32 THE REPORT OF THE UNITY COMMISSION. She said the two meet regularly and have found that their unity in Christ is stronger than the issues that divide them.

The Rev. Lynn Lampman, coordinator of advocacy for Episcopal Community Services, spoke on the new Committee for Children's Advocacy.

Christopher Hart, Chair of the Committee on Resolutions, reported a late resolution had been submitted by the Rev. Joseph Rivers in response to Bishop Turner's address, and that the Resolutions Committee recommended that it be considered. The recommendation was accepted, and Fr. Rivers moved the resolution.

> RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention request Bishop Turner to convene a diocesan gathering at which he may lead us in further reflection on this Church's ministry in creating beloved community and national unity in our American society, that our mission may be informed and strengthened thereby.

The resolution was adopted.

The Rev. Anne Ritchings, Chair of Dispatch of Business, moved a Resolution of Appreciation to the Cathedral Church of the Saviour and the interim dean, The Rev. Robert Stuhlmann, which was adopted.

RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, mindful of the dedicated efforts of the people and staff of the Cathedral Church of the Saviour, express to the Rev. Robert Stuhlmann, and his staff, and to the vestry, our sincere thanks and appreciation for the use of their facilities for the Convention and Convention Eucharist.

The Rev. Anne Ritchings then moved a resolution for the work of the Committees of Convention which was approved.

RESOLVED: That the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania express its gratitude to the following committees and their respective members for their untiring labors both before and during the course of this Convention: Convention Arrangements Committee, Committee on Dispatch of Business, Resolutions Committee, Committee on Elections; as well as to the Tellers, Ushers, Registrars, the Parliamentarian, and the Secretary and her assistants.

The Rev. Anne Ritchings then moved a resolution for the Provision for Printing the Journal and Payment of Convention Expenses.

RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania instruct the Secretary to prepare, print, and distribute the Journal of this Convention; and be it FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Treasurer of the Diocese be, and hereby is, directed to pay the expenses of this 212th Convention.

The Rev. Anne Ritchings then moved a Resolution of Appreciation to the Liturgy Committee and the choirs who sang at the Friday Eucharist, which was adopted.

RESOLVED: That this 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, express its appreciation and gratitude to the Convention Liturgy Committee for its work in planning and implementing the Convention Eucharist. We wish especially to thank the choirs of St. Barnabas School, the Church Farm School, and the Episcopal Academy Jazz Ensemble for their contributions to our worship.

Bishop Bartlett appointed the following Chairs of Committees for the 213th Convention:

APPENDIX 9: THE ADDRESS OF THE RT. REV. ALLEN L. BARTLETT, JR., BISHOP, TO THE 212TH DIOCESAN CONVENTION, NOVEMBER 3, 1995

It is with the greatest pleasure that I greet all of you and welcome you to the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania. I continue to find service among you to be the most challenging, rewarding, and fulfilling ministry imaginable.

It does have its frustrating and painful aspects, and there was one such this year that you all know about. Let me touch on that very briefly at the outset. Several in our diocese initiated a formal complaint against me, involving very serious charges, seeking a presentment and trial. My position on this is clear, and I do not need to speak to this at this time. I am deeply grateful for the unexpected and overwhelming outpouring of support from so many of you. I also respect and am grateful to those who disagree with me but have chosen other ways to express that. The matter is in the hands of the Presiding Bishop. He has indicated that he will deal with this after the completion of the Bishop Righter trial, now scheduled for this January. So for now, as our Lord said, "Be not anxious." I'm not.

Let me now turn to everything else . . . which I find exhilarating.

Notable accomplishments

The past year has seen some notable events and accomplishments. Episcopal Community Services is completing a very successful year of celebrations in observance of 125 years of ministry to and on behalf of the most needy among us.

Christ Church, our oldest parish and the Mother Church of the Episcopal Church, is about to celebrate its 300th anniversary. The centerpiece is a major symposium not looking toward the past but addressing one of the most difficult issues confronting us today, violence.

In February the Diocesan Council adopted a long-range plan reaching to 1999, as a result of recommendations tested by the Mission Strategy Commission among a variety of congregations. This plan puts flesh on the bones of the Diocesan Purpose Statement to which every congregation had input. It has specific goals and strategies which are in the process of being realized. Here are just some examples:

* A major liturgical conference is scheduled for February 1996.
* We are actively exploring the possible establishment of a camp and conference center.
* A Christian Education curriculum on Anglican identity is being developed.
* Schools of evangelism are being conducted.
* The Rev. Lynn Lampman of ECS is working vigorously with the Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission and parishes to help them carry forward ministries of justice and response to human need.
* A team has just returned from Guatemala and will be reporting to you at this Convention on their vivid experiences as we establish our next Companion Diocese relationship.
* Our newest mission, Holy Spirit, Salford, is growing rapidly.
* The Pennsylvania Episcopalian/Episcopal Life will be sent to every household of this diocese, beginning in January. It is an outstanding publication, we have good news to tell, and it needs to be heard.
* Near the completion of this Convention, we will officially receive a major educational resource for this Diocese, the Stevick Library, to be housed here at the Cathedral.

* We are gearing up to host the whole Episcopal Church in 1997.

These are just some of the elements of the long-range plan which are coming to fruition even as we speak. And I haven't even mentioned Nehemiah Housing—160 units of housing for those who have never been able to buy before—nearing completion at this moment eight blocks west of here. These are just some of the reasons why I am exhilarated!

A responsible asking

Another important piece of work was done this past year by a strong and hard-working committee, a special Task Force on Funding of Diocesan Ministries. One of the fruits of their work is a much more realistic yet challenging asking of each congregation relating to its support of the missionary program of the Church. I am asking that every congregation commit 10 to 15% of its income or more for the wider work of the Church in the diocese, nation, and world. This includes what is given for the Assessments as well as the Program Budget. This is not an impossible dream or guilt-producing goal; it is a responsible asking that each congregation take its fair share in the missionary program of the wider Church. I thank God that some parishes already exceed this.

Other fruits of the work of the Task Force include a way of supporting the retired clergy in their medical costs that is more secure yet does not serve as a drain on the missionary program of the diocese. Another result will be a cooperative matching grant program, under which two or more parishes could initiate a ministry in their area and receive matching funds to enhance their work. You will hear more on this in the near future.

An orderly transition

Now let me turn, lastly, to a matter that always generates lots of interest. As all of you now know, some years ago I reached a decision that the autumn of 1995 would be the best time to request the election of a third bishop for this diocese, this time a bishop coadjutor. Why? The answer is an easy one: to use the canonical language, it is "to provide an orderly transition in office."

A bishop coadjutor is of course one who is elected by the Diocesan Convention to succeed the diocesan bishop at some future time. There is a period of overlap, during which the bishop coadjutor "learns the ropes," becoming acquainted with the responsibilities of the office. This diocese, geographically nicely compact but numerically about the fourth or fifth largest in the Episcopal Church, is very complex, and extraordinarily diverse. It has both many unusual demands and many exceptional resources. I personally appreciated the year of introduction as a coadjutor which Bishop Lyman Ogilby afforded me. I would like to be able to accord something like that to my successor.

Other factors in the timing include the fact that the General Convention will be held here in July 1997, and the fact that I will be turning 68 that autumn.

Since it can take a diocese about a year and a half from the time of announcement to the actual consecration of a new bishop, I made known my plan this past September, hoping that we could have a bishop coadjutor consecrated by February 1997, well ahead of the General Convention. As to retirement, I have made no decision (but I am already getting cards wishing me well in my retirement!).

The Standing Committee, which in the Episcopal Church is customarily in charge in such matters, has moved forward expeditiously, in response to my request.

They have developed a resolution for your consideration. This has my warm endorsement. They seek not only your approval but your active participation by nominations for the Search Committee. From the deep well of able and committed members of this diocese, they will appoint a committee broadly representative of the healthy diversity which is a hallmark of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

It is my hope that this election process will bring forth deeper engagement throughout the diocese with God's call to our Church in this time and place. It can be an opportunity for conversation across any boundaries that divide, as the diocese seeks to discern the sort of leadership needed to carry forward our mission. It should be undergirded with prayer at every level. It can and should be an exciting, unifying, spiritual pilgrimage.

In the meanwhile, we have much good work to do together, and that is where my focus will be. Let us go forward together, proclaiming the Gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

APPENDIX 10: REPORT OF THE RT. REV. FRANKLIN D. TURNER TO THE 212TH DIOCESAN CONVENTION, NOVEMBER 4, 1995

I am always pleased and honored to come before this wonderful and august gathering—the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania. This is none other than the Body of Christ, assembled in His name and in His presence, for His glory and honor.

I missed being with you last year because I was on sabbatical leave, but you were very much in my thoughts and prayers. I want to thank Bishop Bartlett, the Standing Committee, and several members of the diocese for making it possible for me to take this leave. This was the first time in my ministry to have a real sabbatical. It was indeed a precious time which afforded me the opportunity to rest, relax, read, travel, and reflect on my life, the mission of the Church, and the ministry of this great diocese. And this is truly a great diocese with so many wonderful people, a good group of clergy, and many congregations engaged in a variety of uplifting ministries.

Sabbatical travels

Further, that leave time gave me an unprecedented chance to visit and meet with Christian sisters and brothers in Europe, Africa, and the Caribbean. God has indeed made of one blood all the peoples of the earth. And their longings are common—for love, respect, and dignity, for community and communion with God and all his creatures. There is a tremendous need in this confused, troubled, unbelieving world, to hear the good news of the Gospel, to experience Christ's love and to be a part of a community. There is a need for unity and community.

As I traveled with a delegation of Episcopal and Roman Catholic bishops to London, Canterbury, and Rome, to dialogue on Roman Catholic/Anglican relations, I experienced a bit more of the catholicity of the Church. I learned that Roman Catholics are real people too, and that they are struggling with many of the same issues that we are in the Episcopal/Anglican Communion. One of the main differences is, they have a Pope to hold things in place. We discovered that we have far more in common than we have differences, and there is a longing for unity.

In our audience with Pope John Paul II he asked us a question which sounded more like a statement, "Our people want unity, don't they?" And we all answered with a resounding "Yes!" We all felt that the Gospel message is being heard by our people, that it is God's will that we be one—one in Christ so that the world might believe.

Another high point in my travels was to attend the second Afro-Anglican conference in Cape Town, South Africa. Hundreds of Afro-Anglicans from many parts of the world gathered in the new South Africa. It was like a homecoming for many of us. However, our purpose there was to focus on our role and participation in the worldwide Anglican Communion, since people of color now comprise the largest constituency in the Communion. We certainly didn't resolve our purpose, rather, we made a good beginning.

Equally important, we went to South Africa to be with our sisters and brothers and to celebrate the new South Africa, a blessed country with an abundance of material and human resources. They are truly God's rainbow people. Now that apartheid has been abolished and democracy instituted, the face of the nation is literally changing, a feeling of freedom is in the air, and there is a sense of hope and promise for the future.

The Anglican Church in South Africa played a major role in combating apartheid, and therefore had good reason to celebrate this victory over an evil and dehumanizing system. There is much yet to be done to fashion a nation out of many people, languages, and cultures. They could well adopt the American motto—e pluribus unum—out of many one. There is a renewed sense of purpose and hope, and a longing for unity and community.

A Church & society divided

When I returned home I had time to reflect on my experiences abroad. And it seems to me there is a deep need amongst us in the Church and society for unity and community. We are so divided along the lines of race, class, ideologies, and theologies.

The O.J. Simpson trial and verdict which preoccupied our attention for over a year exposed the deep racial divisions in our midst. Some think that the verdict has set back racial relations at least 25 years. I don't subscribe to that thinking. I believe the verdict uncovered the festering cancer of racism in America, as well as the deep dark secret of domestic violence, and our failing justice system. We have serious problems. And these problems must be faced and dealt with, boldly and honestly. We need to act now. It's what Dr. Martin Luther King called the fierce urgency of the now, because these issues are wreaking havoc with our lives and relations, and contributing to disunity and breakdown of community.

The verdict in the Simpson trial prompted the President of the United States to give a major speech on race in America. I happened to think that this was one of the strongest speeches on race by a president. He did an excellent job of naming and claiming the problem, but his practical solutions and next steps were found wanting.

William Raspberry, a noted journalist, spoke recently at Sewanee on the crisis of community. He said, "America has a crisis of community that is deep, wide, and largely unaddressed. And it threatens to destroy our solidarity as a nation, in much the same fashion as a similar crisis of community has ripped apart the former Soviet Union and what used to be Yugoslavia.

"I'm talking about more even than the normal give and take among the various sectors and idealogies of this society. I am talking about our growing inability to act—even to think—in the interest of the nation.

"It's almost as though there is no national interest, apart from the aggregate interest of the various components. The whole society seems to be disintegrating into special interests—driven by a new and dismaying interest in what politicians are pleased to call 'wedge' issues."

Recently, the Million Man March in Washington seems to have precipitated more controversy and widened the divisions in America. Yet, at the same time, it called our attention to the serious problems in black families and the black community. Violence, abuse, and the breakdown of family life among blacks is more than serious, it is catastrophic. However, it's not only a black problem, but an American problem. When one part of the body or community is hurting or sick, the whole community hurts and is sick, whether we want to admit it or not. We Christians know this, don't we? We can't say to some people in our community we don't need you, you are expendable, you are a throw-away. You are not needed or wanted. That leads to violence and despair when there is no help or hope.

I believe the Million Man March was a defining moment in the lives of many black men, and will hopefully have a far reaching, positive impact on black life specifically, and on life in general in America.

The radical call of baptism

In our discussion with the Archbishop of Canterbury on Roman Catholic and Anglican unity, Bishop Carey reminded us of the radicality of our baptism. As the people of God, the Church, we are grounded and rooted in our baptismal covenant to strive for justice and peace among all people, and respect the dignity of every human being.

There can be no unity or community in the church or society unless we work and keep our baptismal promises, and make these promises blossom and spring forth in our lives and in those of our neighbors. These promises call upon us to build up lives and relationships, to worship, to work and to pray so that all God's people can have the abundant life, and experience the beloved community.

Now I hope that all of you feel as I do, that as the faith community we can't just sit back and say that conditions are terrible, we must get up and do something. Many of you are already doing something to relieve the pain and suffering, to heal the divisions and separation, by sharing your love and care in very tangible ways with others. Much more needs to be done.

More of us need to reach out and go out to one another, especially across racial, social, cultural and class lines. We need to reach out and go out beyond our community boundaries, cross the street, go across town and deliberately encounter someone who is different and unfamiliar to you. Dare to practice random kindness, and senseless acts of beauty, for Christ's sake and our sake.

Therefore, I want to urge every congregation and every person in this diocese to pair up with and get to know another congregation or person different from yourself. Because getting to know someone or a congregation different than we are will go a long way in breaking down the walls and barriers which separate us. Let us build bridges to overcome those barriers. I want us to try some of the old things that we have done in the past, such as pulpit exchanges, youth groups from various congregations getting together, and adult discussion groups between races. Perhaps there could be a Sunday designated as confession, repentance, and reconciliation Sunday.

We need to take some steps toward healing our divisions. Healing can only take place, however, where there is a relationship.

Relationships create and sustain community. I wish all of you could have been here at the Cathedral several weeks ago for the celebration of our Diocesan Family Reunion—you should have been here to taste and see the goodness of the Lord in the rich diversity of our diocesan family.

The need to experience community

One of the learnings for me on that pilgrimage with Roman Catholic and Episcopal bishops was that as we lived together, got to know one another, suspicion and prejudices faded into the background. We came to know and appreciate each other as fellow human beings, children of God. And we were pained because we could not share in the Holy Eucharist and have full communion.

The world, I believe, needs the people of God to lead and point the way in helping it to know and to experience unity and community.

As I meet with adult confirmands, I am struck by the fact that they are more in search of community than unity. They are in search of a place where they are welcomed, accepted, affirmed, and belong. They need to be restored, healed, but above all else they need to experience community.

The Church is the single organization in society mandated to work for justice and peace and to proclaim the healing and reconciling word of the Gospel. We are a "Pentecost" people. We know and can testify to what happened on the day of Pentecost—that people out of many tongues and nations were unified by the one spirit—God's Holy Spirit. It happened then, it can happen again. Let us pray that we can experience Pentecost anew in our day.

I conclude by saying what I have said at every Convention for the past eight years, that I still believe in Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. The fires of my faith still burn hot. I am not tired, worn out, or burnt out, because the Holy Spirit blesses and refreshes me each and every day. And I know and believe that Christ is still the hope of the world. We who follow Jesus Christ know about Good Friday, but also we know about the resurrection.

So, let me close with this prayer:

O God, you have made of one blood all the peoples of the earth and sent your blessed son to preach peace to those who are far off and to those who are near: grant that people everywhere may seek after you and find you, bring the nations into your fold, pour out your spirit upon all flesh, and hasten the coming of your kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.

APPENDIX 11: BUSINESS LEFT UNFINISHED FROM THE 211TH CONVENTION

R11-94, a Proposed Resolution to Carry Out the Intent of the Standing Resolution on Unity, listed possible ways to nurture unity among individuals and congregations in the diocese. It asked that a report be given to the 1995 and 1996 Diocesan Conventions "as to events, times, participation, changed personal relationships and other observable results." A report from the Unity Commission is enclosed in this year's Convention packets.

R16-94, On the House of Bishops Pastoral Letter on Racism, directed the Committee to Combat Racism to undertake a number of activities that "give teeth and purpose to the House of Bishops Pastoral Letter, 'The Sin of Racism.'" The Committee was asked to report to the 212th Convention "its findings and progress on the above." A report from the Committee is included in the Convention packets, and members will present an oral report during the business session on Saturday, November 4.

Resolutions Referred before the 211th Convention:

R13-94, On the Inclusion of Queen Elizabeth I in the Calendar of Lesser Feasts & Fasts, was referred to the Liturgical Commission by the Resolutions Committee, after discussion at the pre-Convention hearings revealed many were puzzled about various aspects of this resolution. The Liturgical Commission's report on this was sent to deputies in the 1995 resolutions mailing, along with a new resolution, R13-95, that calls for a conference to be held to study this issue.

R20-94, On the Loss of Liturgical Balance, was referred to the Liturgical Commission and the committee planning the Convention liturgy. A statement from the Liturgical Commission on this matter was included in this year's resolutions mailing. In addition, the committee planning the Convention liturgy decided to use Rite I for the opening Eucharist of this year's Convention.

R21-94, On the Decade of Evangelism, was referred to the Theological Commission by the Resolutions Committee. The Commission was asked to report back to the 212th Convention "as to actions taken to address the concerns behind this resolution." A report by the Commission on this matter was included in the 1995 resolutions mailings sent to clergy and lay deputies.

R22-94, On Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities, was referred to the Task Force on the Church and Persons with Disabilities, with the request that the group report to the 212th Convention "on what congregations are doing to include persons with disabilities in parish life." A report from the Task Force is included in the Convention packets; and the chair of the Task Force will speak to Convention during the Saturday morning business session.

APPENDIX 12: REPORT FROM THE LITURGICAL COMMISSION ON R13-94, "ON INCLUSION OF QUEEN ELIZABETH I IN THE CALENDAR OF LESSER FEASTS AND FASTS"

The Executive Committee of the Liturgical Commission of the Diocese of Pennsylvania has carefully considered R13, "On Inclusion of Queen Elizabeth I in the Calendar of Lesser Feasts and Fasts" and recommends Convention not endorse this resolution at this time, but we do encourage further consideration.

The political skills of Elizabeth I are indisputable. The social stability in England during the 44 years of her reign and her personal beneficence set the stage for the "Golden Age" of the English Renaissance. That she "embraced the new religion," and promoted what we now call the "Elizabethan Settlement" through the work of Richard Hooker made lasting contributions to Anglican identity. Her support, by temperament and by design, of a via media is, of course, valued by Anglicans. Her scholarship as a Christian "humanist" was and remains considerable; she read from Erasmus' Greek New Testament and wrote moving prayers.

However, her personal and spiritual motives are unclear to us. She carefully controlled when and how people saw her and what they knew about her. Even today, scholars are still captivated by her mystique. Part of her genius was her ambiguity and careful avoidance of extreme positions, as Christopher Hibbert emphasizes in his 1991 biography, The Virgin Queen: Elizabeth I. Genius of the Golden Age (Addison-Wesley Publishing). As John Booty points out in his essay, "The History of the 1559 Book of Common Prayer," which follows the republication of the 1559 Book, (Washington, Folger Shakespeare Library, 1976), Elizabeth's role in the development of the Book which bears her name is unclear and even contradictory.

The proposers have raised some intriguing points which deserve further discussion. The question is: Can we clearly see Elizabeth as one who shaped and embodied Anglican identity? We, too, are at the mercy of "the Virgin Queen." We, too, are still guessing.

APPENDIX 13 : RESPONSE TO RESOLUTION FROM 211TH DIOCESAN CONVENTION TO THE COMMITTEE TO COMBAT RACISM

The 211th Convention of the Diocese directed the Committee to Combat Racism to give teeth and purpose to the House of Bishops Pastoral Letter "The Sin of Racism" by addressing four goals. These goals: 1) studying and recommending diocesan practices and policies for recruitment, training and deployment of ethnic minorities in the ministry; 2) identifying and developing strategies to consciously and intentionally increase the ethnic minority membership of the diocese; 3) monitoring the progress of the diocese in fulfilling the covenant contained in the House of Bishops Pastoral Letter; and 4) developing and implementing programs of exchange, communication and fellowship whereby members of congregations with differing ethnic compositions may be encouraged to learn and express their respect and love for one another in Christ. The following is a summary of the actions taken by the Committee which begin to address this resolution.

The committee established six (6) goals: 1) To sponsor a conference addressing the Sin of Racism and to provide materials for a diocesan-wide Lenten focus on Racism; 2) To provide training to deaneries (and ourselves) as congregations seek to combat racism; 3) To increase awareness of race-related social problems and to encourage appropriate action; 4) To join with other denominations in an ecumenical effort to combat racism; 5) To encourage and assist congregations of different ethnic composition to worship, learn and work together; and 6) To assist the diocese in creating a time and talent pool that reflects the diversity of the diocese in all its activities. Task groups have been formed to address each of these goals. Progress on these goals will be reported to the diocesan family via the Pennsylvania Episcopalian and other appropriate avenues.

Our first goal was accomplished as we responded when the Commission on Advocacy, Service and Justice designated "Racism" as the focus for the diocesan Lenten study (1995). Kay Myers, a member of the committee, with collaboration of the Christian Education Resource Center (CERC) staff and several consultants, developed a study guide, Building Community. This was sent to each congregation. Orientation sessions to the use of this study guide were conducted by the Director of the CERC, Helen White. The study guide provided several avenues for study, discussion, sharing, and prayer with Biblical references, books, videos, and prayers. Several suggestions were also included to aid congregations in taking further action in the struggle to combat racism. To begin our Lenten study, the committee sponsored a morning conference on the first Saturday of Lent with David Beers, Chancellor to the Presiding Bishop, as speaker. Mr. Beers was excellent. The committee wanted this kickoff to the Lenten focus to be an educational and spiritual journey. Indeed, it was. The attendance was greater than expected with 118 people in attendance. The morning closed with the Eucharist. The offering was designated for the Absalom Jones Memorial Fund for the Recruitment and Training of Ethnic Minorities. In addition, Mr. Beers asked that his expenses and any honorarium be given to this fund. The Commission also contributed to the fund, which totaled $900. A task group is exploring the possibility of such a conference to be held on an annual basis.

The study guide was meant to be a beginning on the long journey to eradicating the Sin of Racism. We have received responses from some of the congregations who used this study guide or who addressed the Sin of Racism and found that congregations are eager to learn more and explore racism further. Some have entered into relationships with other parishes. These relationships are growing and the task group stands ready to support these relationships and to help establish new ones.

One of our members, Jackie Negron, adapted the study guide for young people and presented this at a national church conference in Estes Park, Colorado. These materials were also presented and disseminated in English and Spanish.

We have begun to address Goal 3 in bringing awareness of race-related social problems to the committee and parts of the diocese. Working with the Coordinator of Advocacy of Episcopal Community Services, we have benefited from the information brought to our attention. Because of this, we have been able to respond to welfare reform concerns, educational concerns, and other legislative action that threatens to endanger the lives of our brothers and sisters in Christ. We have asked the Commission to endorse some specific activities, mainly focusing on the educational initiatives in the Philadelphia School District.

An exciting and developing activity of the committee is a Multicultural Art Exhibit for the 1997 General Convention. The enthusiasm generated by this activity has been thrilling. The enormousness of the project is overwhelming! However, such an activity focusing on the gifts, talents, and skills of African Americans, Hispanics, Asian Americans, Native Americans and other ethnic groups will give all of us an opportunity to celebrate and support the richness of different cultures and races. We are still in the planning stages and must more clearly define the parameters of this activity.

Bishops Bartlett and Turner have been very supportive of the activities of the Committee to Combat Racism. This support is reflected in the encouragement and actions of the Commission on Advocacy, Service and Justice. We have strengthened our relationship with the Union of Black Episcopalians (UBE) and anticipate that this relationship will grow and develop.

The committee is composed of dedicated members who bring experience, enthusiasm, talent, and a fierce commitment to eradicate the Sin of Racism. The committee welcomes new members and is grateful to past leadership.

Our work has just begun. We are painfully aware that racism is an evil that is in every aspect of our lives. One must only read a newspaper, watch TV, or listen to the news to see institutional racism at work. A drive through almost any neighborhood emphasizes this fact all too clearly. Identifying places where racism exists is easy. The difficult part is doing something about it. The Committee to Combat Racism is committed to doing something about the Sin of Racism. We ask your participation and prayers.

APPENDIX 14: REPORT OF THE LITURGICAL COMMISSION IN RESPONSE TO R20-94, "ON THE LOSS OF LITURGICAL BALANCE"

(which asked that the Rite I service of Holy Eucharist be alternated with the Rite II service at the annual Convention liturgy)

The judgment of the Executive Committee of the Liturgical Commission of the Diocese of Pennsylvania in regard to R-20 (1994) and R-15 (1988) is that all opinions and recommendations to the Bishop regarding our liturgical life, such as these resolutions or the evaluation forms completed at the conclusion of Convention or other diocesan events, or other forms of communication, should be welcomed as advisory. However, it is assumed that we all acknowledge and uphold the Bishop's liturgical prerogatives. While such opinions are useful, our first priority is that the traditional prerogative of the Bishop in diocesan liturgical matters must be maintained as a fundamental principle of our Anglican ethos.

APPENDIX 15: REPORT OF THE THEOLOGICAL COMMISSION RE: R21-94

The Committee on Resolutions, recognizing that the failure of the 211th Convention to adopt resolution R21 (and the rejection of similar resolutions by previous conventions) "is a source of pain to many in the Diocese," referred the matter to the Theological Commission, asking it "to report to the 212th Diocesan Convention on actions taken to address the concerns behind this resolution."

To cite some actions:

The Theological Commission itself has, at the Bishop's direction, both before and after the 211th Convention, devoted considerable time, running through several meetings, to discussing R21 and its predecessors—their substance, their apparent implications, and the appropriateness of bringing them before the Convention. Significant dialogue was conducted with proposers of the resolution who met with the Commission. R21 has also been considered by the Commission on Evangelism.

Prompted by the failure of this resolution in Convention, the Bishop appointed the Committee on the Unity of the Church. In the meetings of that committee, which continued over many months, some of the pain and doctrinal conflict came to expression. Common ground was sought, even though at times it seemed doubtful that it could be found. The members of this committee on all sides made a serious attempt to hear one another. At length a report was drawn up, and with the submission of this report, the Committee on the Unity of the Church discharged its task.

Out of that committee and its work has come the Unity Commission, which will continue some of this search for mutual understanding.

These actions by several agencies of the diocese, while they necessarily consist largely of discussion, do indicate that Resolution R21-94 and its predecessors have been given serious attention.

Out of these discussions, several things that bear upon "the concerns behind this resolution" may be reported:

A) The Theological Commission observes that resolution R21-94 and the generally similar resolutions which have come before at least four conventions have linked a statement about Christ as the only savior (1) sometimes with biblical authority, and (2) sometimes with evangelism—both of them matters important to the life and integrity of the Church. Limited by space constraints, the movers, regrettably, can offer little account of how, in their judgment, the authority of the Bible and the cause of evangelism are bound up with the particular affirmation they urge upon the Convention, nor can they explain what the adoption or rejection of such a resolution might imply.

The presenters of the resolution clearly think that something essential to the Church's faith and mission is lacking in the common commitment of the diocese, and they ask the Convention, through its clerical and its lay deputies, to make a strong affirmation of both biblical authority and the uniqueness and finality of Christ, thus committing the diocese to the faith that must inform and inspire evangelism.

Yet when votes are counted, the Convention has been distrustful, and such resolutions have failed. This rejection of the resolution has raised grave questions of conscience for its proposers.

However, those who vote against such a resolution may also be acting out of conscience.

In the minds of most if not all of the clerical and lay deputies to the Diocesan Convention, neither biblical authority nor evangelism is in question. The Episcopal Church constantly declares itself on both of these matters:

1) As to Scripture: All of the clergy of the Episcopal Church affirm their belief that the Holy Scriptures are the Word of God and contain "all things necessary to salvation." In the Church's authorized liturgy, the Bible is read, and it informs the language and thought of the Church's prayers. The Lambeth Quadrilateral, which Anglicans hold themselves and which they put forward as a basis for discussing unity with others, affirms that the Holy Scriptures of Old and New Testaments are the Word of God. The members of the Convention, through the faith-structures of the Episcopal Church, have affirmed the Bible as divine revelation, and they have sustained that affirmation week after week by worship, preaching, and life.

As these Church formularies make clear, Anglicans, along with all other Christians, attest their Christian identity by faithful consent to the Scriptures. However, the Scriptures require interpretation. Both in history and in today's Church, the Bible has been and is variously interpreted. Doubtless there are better and worse interpretations. But, as Anglicans have seen it, no interpretation can claim to be the one right interpretation, and none can stand on the same level of authority as do the Scriptures themselves.

The majority of deputies to the Diocesan Convention may well have been skeptical of resolution R21 and its predecessors, not out of disregard for the authority of the Scriptures. Rather, they resist any requirement that, to attest the soundness in the faith, they must say more than they have already said. It sounds as though the deputies are being asked to affirm, not the Holy Scriptures, but something more than the Holy Scriptures—indeed, a particular interpretation of them. That route leads to sectarianism, not to the Catholic faith.

2) As to mission: The Episcopal Church and all of its baptized members are bound to "proclaim the Good News of God in Christ." The Church is, by necessity, a witness-bearing community. "The Church exists by mission as a fire exists by burning." (Emil Brunner) The essentiality of evangelism, like the essentiality of Scripture, is not in question. Christ has won a redemption which is for all. The Church, in His name, offers it to all.

Yet the task of witness is varied, and no understanding of mission is inextricably bound up with the imperative of witness itself. Many Anglicans, perhaps aware of the ferment in missiology, may well say that just because they care about witness, they do not want to be asked to say that any one account of witness declares what witness must be in order to be itself.

Of course, if either biblical authority or the mandate to evangelize were under serious threat, the Church would be obliged, for the sake of the gospel and its own integrity as a gospel-informed community, to take notice. But if what is being proposed in the resolutions that have been put before successive conventions is a particular interpretation or emphasis, it might legitimately be thought un-Anglican to require an official, representative body of the Church to subscribe to such an interpretation. Anglicans affirm ex animo the Scriptures, the Creeds, and the Prayer Book; and then they put the faith of the Scriptures, the Creeds, and the Prayer Book into practice in a wide variety of thought-forms and modes of action — all of them intending loyalty to the basic Anglican sources. To live responsibly in such a community requires that persons learn to differ, while at the same time respecting the Christian integrity of those with whom they differ.

B) The basic biblical material on which the Church depends for faith and mission is itself quite complex, and hence open to a range of understandings. The New Testament witnesses that Christ, the One who represents all, has won a redemption for all, and the Church is a sign-community of that redemption. Yet the resolutions that have been brought before the Diocesan Convention have cited principally two New Testament texts: John 14:6b and Acts 4:12 — texts which seem, at least at first glance, to restrict redemption to those who by the grace of providence have heard the Christian message. But other New Testament texts (including some in John and Acts) are open and inclusive. Jn. 1:1-3, for instance, suggests that all persons are, by reason of their humanity, made by and for the Divine Word and stand in relation to that Word; and Acts 10:34f and 17:24-31 suggest that God is now (and always has been) dealing in judgment and redemption, through Christ, with everyone. All specific texts need to be seen in their context, and they all need to be set together to establish the unity of the biblical witness.

When considering the mystery of the purpose of God in and beyond history, the Scriptures set Jesus Christ in the center. The New Testament (particularly the Pauline) witness is realistic about the power of sin, but it also gives grounds for evangelical optimism that grace will ultimately triumph. Paul in 1Cor.15:22 gives no indication that while the "all" of sin and death in Adam is universal, the "all" of life in Christ is restrictive. Ultimate judgment and ultimate salvation are secret things that belong to God alone, but the Church which knows Jesus Christ as divine Lord and Savior knows enough to accept and discharge faithfully the duty and joy of witnessing to Him to all and serving all in His name.

These comments are simply intended to say that the basic biblical material to which all Christians look for their understanding of Christ and his saving significance is not simple. The New Testament presents the saviorhood of Christ in a rich and varied way, carrying many implications for theology and for the mission of the Church in the world. To cite only isolated Scripture references or to boil down the biblical witness to a phrase means that Convention deputies cannot know what they are being asked to vote on. Where is this resolution coming from? What does it imply?

C) The Commission would like to associate itself with the so-called Zimmerman resolution, passed in 1989, which stated that Convention is not the proper place to discuss matters of faith. The processes of an essentially legislative convention inevitably politicize such matters; arguments and implications cannot be laid out well, and questions cannot be pursued; deputies cannot vote on the basis of an adequate understanding. Matters of some complexity are inevitably simplified under the necessity of drafting a concise resolution and putting it to a quick vote. Moreover, a diocesan convention is simply without competence to determine a matter of church doctrine. The redemptive meaning of Jesus Christ is what it is, as attested in the Scriptures and the basic doctrinal formularies of the Church. That meaning is given the consent of Christians, not by counting votes in a formal assembly, but in the inner depths which believing persons declare, all at baptism and some at ordination. Theological matters should be considered in a manner and in a forum appropriate for theological inquiry.

The active proclamation of the saving grace of our Lord Jesus Christ is to be encouraged, while bringing matters of faith to a vote is to be discouraged. The Creeds of the Church continue to provide the basis of orthodoxy. Theological defenses of such historic documents or tests of the degree to which individuals or collective Christian bodies support them are best left out of the legislative process. The more appropriate focus of energy should be on the celebrative proclamation of God's act of saving grace through Jesus Christ, our Lord, available to all God's children through the continuing work of the Holy Spirit. We are participants in the ongoing act of salvation. In such truth we are unified, not divided, and this unity must be acknowledged with firm conviction.

APPENDIX 16: REPORT FROM THE TASK FORCE ON THE CHURCH & PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES IN RESPONSE TO R22-94

("On Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities," submitted to the 211th Convention, and R9-92, "On Compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act," submitted to the 209th Convention.)

It was resolved that the 209th Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania shall promote, encourage, and support voluntary compliance with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act throughout the diocese, in our churches and facilities; programs and organizations.

Be it further resolved that every effort be made so that churches and facilities will be accessible for persons with disabilities.

In our informal observations, surveys, and as shown in the Diocese Directory, more churches and facilities are making a conscious effort to become accessible for persons with disabilities. It is noted, however, that even with this effort, approximately two-thirds of our churches and facilities are not designated as accessible for persons with disabilities.

Be it further resolved that all available resources will be used to make reasonable accommodations that will enable persons with physical disabilities and those with mental illnesses to become active members of our congregations.

More persons with disabilities have become active members of our congregations as Priests, Deacons, and lay leaders. If there were more understanding and acceptance from our congregations, and less reluctance and fear of rejection on the part of persons with disabilities, then persons with disabilities would become more active members of our congregations.

Be it further resolved that alternate means of communication be made for persons with communication disabilities, such as hearing, seeing, writing, and speaking.

More churches and religious programs are providing alternate means of communication for persons with these disabilities, but more resources need to be readily available so that those who attend will find them available upon their request for special accommodation. This will enable more complete participation of persons with these specific disabilities in our churches.

Be it further resolved that we follow Christ's example of "loving thy neighbor" by accepting and incorporating persons with disabilities and mental illnesses as fully participating members of Christ's Church.

More education is needed to help the people of our congregations understand and accept persons with disabilities and to learn how to incorporate them into fully participating members of Christ's Church. The Task Force on the Church and Persons with Disabilities is ready and eager to help with this process. By utilizing persons with disabilities as resources and consultants we can teach by showing examples of what has, and can be, done.

The public sector is now required to comply with the provisions of the ADA, and it seems appropriate that the religious community be accessible in every way possible. More persons with disabilities are in the mainstream of the public sector because of designated parking, ramps, and accessible facilities. Our religious community needs to follow the example of the public sector and make our churches and facilities accessible in every way possible. If this is accomplished more persons with disabilities will become active participants and contributing members of the congregations and programs of the Diocese of Pennsylvania. This Task Force is ready and eager to assist in this process.

APPENDIX 17: RE 1: PENNSYLVANIA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

The Diocese of Pennsylvania and 43 sister church bodies cooperate to strengthen mission at the community level. They support Gospel witness and Christ-incarnating service which reaches 280,000 persons in Pennsylvania during 1995. The PCC helps pastors and congregations to:

- Offer Christian witness and loving care to truckers and travelers along I-70 and I-76 at Breezewood, I-80 at Brookville/Strattanville, I-81 at Carlisle/ Middlesex, and I-79 and I-90 in Erie County;
- Provide for theological consultation between church traditions;
- Work for justice and human dignity in government decisions;
- Monitor church-state issues (the Rt. Rev. Franklin D. Turner and the Rev. Robert H. Betts serve on the Public Advocacy Team of the Council);
- Care for 36,000 residents in state prisons, mental health and mental retardation facilities, youth development centers, and veterans hospitals across the Commonwealth through staff chaplains, advocated and supported by the Council (the Rev. Dee Doheny Faison serves as an institutional chaplain at Haverford State Hospital);
- Extend spiritual care among those residents through 74 pastors engaged by the Council to serve with staff chaplains in 31 facilities across Pennsylvania;
- Speak and be Good News among 12,000 seasonal farmworkers;
- Witness among and serve 300,000 campers in 32 state, 5 federal, and 18 private campgrounds;
- Inform 20,000 readers of Update to help them influence public policy developments in Pennsylvania;
- Provide witness and action with Pennsylvania's Roman Catholics through the Pennsylvania Conference on Interchurch Cooperation.

During 1995-96 we will also:

- Interact with and witness to decision-makers in government on selected moral and social issues;
- Inform and train 150 persons at the annual governmental briefing in Harrisburg, May 7, 1996;
- Offer citizen political effectiveness seminars to equip 1,000 Pennsylvanians to influence public policy developments;
- Publish Pennsylvania Impact, helping 800 subscribers interact effectively with federal and state officials;
- Inspire and train 600 pastors, other religious professionals, and spouses at the State Pastors' Conference, November 6-8, 1995 (theme: "Priest, Preacher, Pray-er, Prophet");
- Network Christian education staff of cooperating church bodies for mutual support and continuing education (Ms. Betsy Boyd serves on the Committee on Christian Education of the Council);
- Gather ecumenical relations specialists from church bodies and agencies who will meet for inspiration and mutual support at the annual Forum on Ecumenical Relations, and who work together on the Council's Committee on Ecumenical Relations (The Rev. Dr. Charles J. Wissink serves on this Committee);
- Work with Consilium to help persons over 60 years old move from prison to a positive role in society;
- Advocate a better ratio of chaplains to residents in state facilities;

- Forecast trends and developments which will impact the religious community;
- Try a new structure to encourage broader participation and ecumenical networking across the state.

The Rt. Rev. Allen L. Bartlett, Jr., Mrs. Nancy Ritter, and the Rev. Dr. Charles J. Wissink represent the Diocese of Pennsylvania on the General Board.

APPENDIX 18: RE 2: THE CHURCH FOUNDATION

The Church Foundation, a Pennsylvania nonprofit corporation, is the designated trustee of funds and real estate for the Diocese of Pennsylvania. Its primary responsibility is managing the Consolidated Fund, a balanced fund representing investments of nearly 350 church and diocesan accounts, totaling over $82 million.

Historically, the Foundation has always been a frugal manager of church and diocesan assets. The modest charges on a $100,000 account, for example, are equivalent to about $300/year (0.3%).

As of June 30, 1995, the audited figures were:

| Consolidated Fund | | |
|---|---|---|
| 6 Mos. Income Per Unit (vs. 1994) | $1.52 | (+0.1%) |
| Unit Value (vs. 1994) | $66.36 | (+12.7) |
| Total Market Value (vs. 1994) | $82.5 mil | (+19.7%) |

As has been the case for the past 19 consecutive years, earnings per unit continue to reach new heights.

The Foundation continues to pursue its primary goal: to protect and strengthen the financial health of the fund participants it serves in the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Beatty J. Smith
Executive Vice President

APPENDIX 19: RE 3: ST. ANNA'S RESIDENCE

St. Anna's is "home" to those persons who come from outside Philadelphia with family members who will receive surgery, chemo, radiation, transplants, etc., at the local hospitals. Their stay is generally long-term, but they have a home and a small family while here. They also have the sacramental and spiritual ministrations of the local parish and of the sisters in residence, who do the hospital visiting.

St. Anna's has served 83 people since January 1, 1995, including a baby from Puerto Rico who had cancer of the eyes and a lady who was here for six months with her husband, whose illness kept him in Intensive Care that entire time. We have experienced four deaths with our people this year. The most heart-rending one was that of a 23-year-old woman who died of a brain hemorrhage after receiving a successful bone marrow transplant and who had become engaged to be married two weeks before she died.

Spiritually, many miracles have taken place at St. Anna's. People have come back to the faith and to the Sacraments, or they have found both for the first time, or have discovered that the Scriptures do impact on their lives. They also speak of the love, care, and concern that are here and that they give to each other in a dark moment of life.

Sr. Elaine of All Saints
Sister in Charge

APPENDIX 20: RE 4: SENIOR CLERGY

Our group was saddened by the death of our co-chairman, the Rev. Canon Arthur Moody, who was instrumental in planning the meeting scheduled at St. Mary's, Cathedral Road, in December, which is our special Christmas party with the Bishop.

The group appreciates and enjoys the hospitality of the rectors at parishes who have so graciously shared Holy Communion with us at noon followed by a brief homily, lunch, and congenial fellowship when the group convenes six times a year on the third Wednesdays of October, November, December, March, April, and May.

Question: are there rectors or parishes who would enjoy this "Holy Fellowship" in November, March, or April? If so please call Fr. Tom Logan at 610-626-2780.

We appreciate the moral support of the diocese, which recognizes this senior group of priests, wives, widows, and widowers who have served long in the vineyard for the love of His work.

The Rev. Canon Thomas W.S. Logan, Sr.

APPENDIX 21: RE 5: SPIRITUAL GROWTH RESOURCES COMMITTEE

Our primary mission is to support the Bishop of Pennsylvania in his ministry of strengthening the spiritual life of the diocese. Our purpose is to be a spiritual leaven that will promote the mutual ministry and deeper prayer life of all persons, acting as a clearinghouse for information and activities relative to encouraging the development of individual and corporate prayer life. Our membership is representative of both ordained and lay individuals from many parishes in our diocese.

Our outreach in the last year, because of requests from some parishes, has been to formulate information that is recommended for spiritual growth. This includes a bibliography of books recommended on spirituality, a list of retreat centers in the diocese, and a list of names of spiritual directors accessible for those interested in having someone with whom to travel on their spiritual journey. The committee once again was a presence at the Diocesan Convention as a resource.

A subcommittee of the group, together with the Evangelism Committee, presented three workshops on centering prayer, led and facilitated by members of the committee, which were very successful. Different locations were chosen throughout the diocese in order that the workshops be convenient for everyone.

In February the two committees again joined forces and sponsored a workshop with Br. Robert Hugh, S.S.F., on "Spirituality as the Key to Evangelism." We are hoping to have him return this year to do a follow-up workshop.

We also offered a diocesan-wide Prayer Conference last April which was very successful. It was held on Friday evening and ended with the Eucharist, celebrated by Bishop Bartlett on Saturday at noon. The consensus is that we need to repeat the experience, and we hope to be able to offer it again next spring.

The committee is also responsible for the Prayer Calendar which is distributed throughout the diocese twice a year, and we give thanks again this year to the Rev. Denise Leo for her competent and faithful service in preparing this calendar for us.

During our annual meeting with the Bishop we discussed how we could become an even larger presence in the diocese. Some of our ideas for achieving that are to become more centered on family spirituality, ministry by older adults, and ministry by youth. Because of the need for the space, our meetings will not be held at Gateson House next year, which means that our meditation room will no longer be available. The committee has agreed that our focus is changing, but we hope to be able to re-establish the meditation space somewhere in the diocese in the near future.

Lyn Campbell, Chair

APPENDIX 22: RE 6: COMMISSION ON CLERGY SALARIES AND PENSIONS

Clergy Salaries

The Commission recommended cash compensation ranges and midpoints for 1995 for consideration by the 1994 Convention. These were adopted by the Convention and were communicated to the parishes in November 1994.

Clergy Financial Assistance

The Commission reviewed requests for clergy financial assistance. Grants in the amount of $29,700 were approved and disbursed, and repayments of prior loans of $4,939 were received and returned to the Clergy Financial Assistance Fund. $20,000 was transferred to the Clergy Sabbatical Fund.

The Commission reviewed its policies and procedures for administering clergy financial assistance, and has recommended to the 1995 Convention several amendments to the Canons to conform them to current conditions and practices.

Health Insurance

The Commission noted that the new Blue Cross/Blue Shield health insurance plan which became effective on 4/1/94 provided significantly less coverage for outpatient mental health services. Input was received from diocesan staff, several clergy, and the diocesan health insurance consultant. The Commission recommended, and the Committee on Finance and Property approved, a supplemental, self-insured outpatient mental health insurance plan which became effective on 1/1/95. The Commission will monitor the operation of this plan.

John H. Austin, Jr., Vice Chair

APPENDIX 23: RE 7: DIOCESAN COALITION FOR MISSION AND MINISTRY (DCMM)

The Diocesan Coalition for Mission and Ministry is grateful for its strong diocesan support. One level of support is the significant financial support in the diocesan budget. An even more significant level of support is the constant prayers and hard work of so many members of the diocese in the many ministries of our member congregations. The Coalition includes 38 aided parishes and missions. These congregations are found in nine of the eleven deaneries. The clergy of the DCMM congregations meet monthly for prayer, fellowship, and study. Plenary meetings for training and ministry development are held quarterly.

The Coalition has just completed a two-year program of working with Peter Saros, a consultant in congregational development. Peter worked with clergy and laity in the areas of stewardship, capital campaigns, leadership development, and program development.

Major diocesan financial support is provided to "diocesan missions." Diocesan funds provide full-time priestly ministry at Church of the Advocate, Christ Church and St. Ambrose, St. Gabriel's, Free Church of St. John, All Souls Church for the Deaf, St. George St. Barnabas, and the yoked congregations of San Pablo and St. Mary's, Chester. A new diocesan mission for 1995 is the yoked congregations of St. Mary's, Philadelphia, and St. Dismas Mission, Graterford Prison.

A small number of grants from the diocesan budget enhance the ministry of other Coalition congregations. These grants have decreased in number and size during the last several years. Many Coalition congregations provide for their ministries out of resources available locally. These congregations usually are served by part-time priests and have strong traditions of lay leadership and the ministry of the laity.

Coalition churches work together to confront and meet the challenges of ministry: the challenge of large and inefficient, but also beautiful and inspiring buildings bequeathed by earlier generations; the challenge of meeting clergy compensation requirements established by Diocesan Convention; the challenge of needs for ministry beyond the capacity and resources of the congregation and the neighborhood.

Whatever the challenge, ministry occurs daily in member congregations. People are fed and tutored. Care is provided to young and old. The Gospel is preached in sign language, Korean, Spanish, and English. Church schools and Bible studies proclaim God's love for all creation. Neighborhoods are developed and made more secure. These are the fruits of our diocesan partnership. Thanks be to God.

The Ven. John E. Midwood

APPENDIX 24: RE 8: LITURGICAL COMMISSION

This year the Liturgical Commission was expanded and reorganized. The 26 members from across our diocese are divided into four subcommittees: music, Dr. Martha Johnson, chair; pastoral offices, the Rev. Scherry Fouke, chair; liturgical environment, the Rev. Anne Ritchings, who replaces the Rev. Peyton Craighill as chair; and liturgical resources (I am chair pro tempore).

The Commission is now organized to serve the congregations of the diocese. We have no involvement in liturgies at the Cathedral or for diocesan events.

Subcommittees meet monthly to plan training events, for self-education, and to respond to requests from congregations for consultations. (A detailed description of the subcommittees is published in the newsletter or is available by calling me at 610/644-2261.) Some activities currently in preparation include a major training program for musicians in small congregations; an occasional newsletter; and a program to identify and make available service settings by women composers. The First Annual Liturgical Conference of the diocese will be presented February 3, 1996. The conference will focus on the implications of the new Guidelines for Christian Initiation and Formation in this diocese. The keynote speaker will be the Rt. Rev. A. Theodore Eastman, retired Bishop of Maryland and author of The Baptizing Community.

The first six months of the new Liturgical Commission have been exciting and very productive. I am grateful to all those who have so enthusiastically responded.

The Rev. Frank M. Harron, Chair

APPENDIX 25: RE 9: SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE (SCI)

In November 1843 the fledgling Seamen's Church Institute was tending the needs of desolate crews aboard the myriad sailing ships berthed in the ports of Philadelphia, then the largest U.S. port and English-speaking city outside of London.

151 years later, a more mature SCI still is responding to God-sent seafaring sojourners and the "surprises" they bring.

November 30, 1994, dawned like any other day for the crew of the little freighter PAT and for the SCI folk who had just delivered to the ship parish-donated Christmas "ditty bags." The quietude was not to last.

As the PAT was leaving the Gloucester Marine Terminal with her crew of nine Mexicans and one Dominican, an explosion erupted in the engine room. She was declared unfit to sail until a replacement engine cylinder was installed. While the crew waited for parts, the Mexican economy collapsed. Now there was no money for parts, nor for food nor heat nor water—nor to pay the near-freezing crew.

The PAT and her distressed small crew of strangers-in-the-strange-land of our ports remained stranded, for one crisis-ridden reason or another, until June 1995. During this six-month period, SCI and its pastoral associates literally became the PAT's family: visiting the ship every day, assuring warm clothing, food, drinking water, and other basic necessities. Each night SCI transported the despondent crew to the Merchant Seamen's Center on Arch Street in Philadelphia for friendship, solace, relaxation, spiritual regeneration, and resolution of all manner of work-related, family, and pastoral issues. Mass was arranged on shipboard and land-side. Three crew members were baptized and one confirmed.

SCI also convinced the Mexican owner to come to town. Soon SCI became not only the crew's pastor and friend, but the owner's counselor, advocate, and friend, both locally and internationally.

SCI is blessed with a terrifically talented and committed team of volunteers and staff. It is equally blessed by wonderful counsel and support throughout the diocese, without which that bleak November 1994 day never would have brightened into the blue skies of June 1995, when the PAT finally sailed to Staten Island to take on a cargo bound for Haiti.

All the while the PAT was SCI's primary "family" missionary concern, not a beat was missed in ministering to the crews aboard the thousands of other merchant and cruise ship vessels calling at our ports. During the past twelve months, SCI made 5,561 ship boardings and visitations and provided free transport in SCI vehicles to 25,500 seafarers to and from isolated docks to churches of choice, medical clinics, shopping and recreational areas, and the Seamen's Center. 20,700 persons from 1,138 different ships, 75 different (mostly developing) cultures and all religions availed themselves of the variety of services at the Center. Nearly 5,000 calls were placed "back home" to countries around the world, and hundreds (Christian and non-Christian) participated in the 108 services of ecumenical worship and Bible study.

For a year which brought SCI the PAT, plus so many, many other missionary opportunities and challenges—thanks be to God!

APPENDIX 26: RE 10: PLANNED GIVING COMMITTEE

It is gratifying to report our planned giving program is experiencing substantial increased interest and support from parishioners throughout the diocese.

All clergy and many parishioners recently received our fall newsletter—Planning for the Future—and undoubtedly noted the communication from the Episcopal Church Foundation in New York congratulating us on having received planned gifts exceeding $1,000,000 in recent months.

I would like to again emphasize we stand ready to meet with rectors, vestries, endowment committees, etc. We also welcome the opportunity to speak at adult educational programs and conduct wills seminars for parishes in the diocese.

Our mission is clear— "create an understanding and acceptance of the Christian Stewardship of accumulated assets for the benefit of the parish." We invite your inquiries.

Robert C. Fernley, Planned Giving Officer

APPENDIX 27: RE 11: DOLPHINS OF DELAWARE VALLEY

The extraordinary ministry of one Dolphin visiting one nursing home patient continues to attract recruits from the churches and (just barely) enough support from churches and individuals to keep our office at St. Christopher's, Gladwyne, humming along.

We continue to have inquiries from churches and councils of churches, and during the past year several new affiliated groups have begun in other dioceses. The number of Dolphins in our home group has increased slightly this year, a notable accomplishment considering that many of our original "old faithfuls" are now (in some cases) too old to take on new "friends." Many others, some of them busy young mothers/businesswomen/fathers/businessmen, as well as widows and widowers, have filled the gap.

We are grateful indeed for the leadership, devotion, and skill of our administrator, Mrs. Bruce Jacobson (Gayle), and coordinator, Mrs. Roger Uhler (Mimzie). Two or three of our major donors died or reduced their gifts this year, but so far the diocese (Sayre Fund) and outreach committees of interested parishes, especially in the Merion Deanery, have made it possible to carry on. Our expenses are minimal: both Mrs. Jacobson and Mrs. Uhler work for less than any other professional would even consider, and we have no extra benefits to pay. The office is given to us by St. Christopher's, Gladwyne, and volunteers complete the office staff.

Remember in your prayers those marooned in nursing homes and the faithful Dolphins who bring the love and concern of our Lord to them week by week.

The Rev. Timothy Pickering, Board Chair

APPENDIX 28: RE 12: ADVOCACY, SERVICE AND JUSTICE COMMISSION

The Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission (ASJC) exists to define, establish, and evaluate priorities for the social ministries of the diocese. The Commission serves as the clearinghouse for the various diocesan ministries as they relate to the diocesan structure and our individual congregations. The Commission also seeks to aid the diocese and Episcopal Community Services as they speak with a united voice on issues of economic and social justice.

The membership of the Commission was enlarged during the past year. Representatives from the Union of Black Episcopalians, the Child Advocacy Task Force, the Furniture Ministry (formed by the Refugee Resettlement Committee to aid in the distribution of furniture to refugees), and the appointment of the first Chair of the Economic Justice Committee has broadened the scope of the Commission, which is composed of 26 members.

A special committee composed of representatives from Episcopal Community Services and the diocesan staff prepared a ministry description for a "Staff Person Coordinator for Advocacy, Service and Justice ministry for the Diocese of Pennsylvania." The year 1995 saw this position filled: the Rev. Lynn Lampman joined the staff of Episcopal Community Services and the diocese. Her presence has brought new life and insights into the ministry which should be at the center of diocesan mission to the world of Greater Philadelphia.

In its formative period the members of the Commission established a three-year plan for diocesan social ministries. 1994 was the year for focus on violence, 1995 focused on the sin of racism, and 1995-1996 will be the year for spotlighting economic justice. The Rev. Brewster Hastings has been appointed chair of a new Economic Justice Committee. He and the members of that committee will begin the task of bringing economic concerns to the larger community.

The Commission asked the Bishops to set aside three Sundays in 1995 for prayer and study. Criminal justice/death penalty was the focus of our attention in the spring when we considered present attempts at criminal justice in the light of the imprisonment of St. Paul. The Commission joined the religious world of the nation by setting aside two Sundays in October as an Octave to contemplate the Children's Sabbath and the Sabbath for Domestic Peace.

The Diocesan Family Reunion was held at the Cathedral Church of the Saviour on Saturday, October 7. The Commission invited the members of the diocesan family to go on a pilgrimage for justice, peace, and dignity. Celebrating our unique diocese and its opportunities for mission, the Commission presented the breadth of its ministry within the context of the Holy Eucharist.

One of the important works for the Commission is to educate congregations about the issues facing national, state, and local legislatures. Position papers have been prepared and sent to concerned legislators and parishes. This year saw the beginning of a new ministry, Team to Educate Legislators. T.E.L. will help parishes become educated in important ethical and moral issues facing our legislative assemblies. Study will enable an informed response.

Under Bishop Turner's leadership, great strides have been accomplished in the establishment of the Commission's influence in the life of the diocese. The Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission is a singular ministry in the diocese. It seeks to permeate our secular concerns with the spirit of the Crucified and Resurrected One. For this important task, the Commission offers the advocacy of Christ, for whom there was no advocate, the service of Christ whose feet remained unwashed, and the justice of Christ's Cross, which, as the sign of ultimate injustice, trampled death into the ground.

The Rev. Bruce H. Jacobson, Chair

APPENDIX 29: RE 12A: TEAM TO EDUCATE LEGISLATORS (T.E.L.)

The Team to Educate Legislators (T.E.L.) was designed by the Rev. Lynn P. Lampman (Coordinator of Advocacy) and established as a committee of the Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission in fall 1995 with the following mission and goals in mind:

Mission Statement:

The Team to Educate Legislators (T.E.L.) will mobilize the Diocese of Pennsylvania and Episcopal Community Services (ECS) to respond to pending legislation in a way which is consistent with the social policies of the Episcopal Church.

Goals:

1. Inform diocesan and ECS staff of pending legislation.
2. Inform the diocese and ECS of the social policies of the Episcopal Church as they relate to pending legislation.
3. Provide parishes, parishioners, deaneries, ECS and diocesan staff, and ECS Board of Directors with avenues for action regarding pending legislation.
4. Educate parishes, parishioners, diocesan staff, ECS staff and Board of Directors on how to communicate their position, convictions, and concerns regarding pending legislation to their legislators.
5. Conduct voter registration campaigns in parishes with racial minorities and/or the poor.
6. Recruit 12 parishes for the pilot phase of T.E.L.

The Rev. Lynn P. Lampman, Coordinator of Advocacy

APPENDIX 30: RE 12B: PEACEMAKING COMMITTEE

In December, we met at St. Margaret's House for Evening Prayer, dinner, and to discuss issues of peace-making in Haiti. Mary Arnett of the American Friends Service Committee was our leader.

In addition to our learning, we communicated to the U.S. State Department our concern for Fr. Samedy, a priest arrested on specious charges. The State Department investigated and reported to us that Father Samedy had been released.

In May at another dinner meeting at St. John the Evangelist in South Philadelphia we learned of peacemaking efforts in Bosnia from Scott Schaeffer Duffy, a Catholic Worker, who has carried his peace banner throughout Bosnia in several trips there. His message is that in all wars, all suffer, and all sufferers want peace.

Throughout the year, the Peacemaking Committee has participated in the work of other groups of the Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission. We were especially active in the racism programs, because that, too, is peacemaking.

Plans are being made for a new program on Bosnia in November.

The constant mission of the Peacemaking Committee is to raise in our diocese prophetic questions of peace and justice all over the world, trying to fulfill what the Prince of Peace said, "Blessed are the peacemakers."

The Rev. John Kimball, Coordinator

APPENDIX 31: RE 12C: COMMITTEE ON THE ENVIRONMENT

The Committee on the Environment has met regularly over the past year on the first Wednesday of the month in the large conference room at Church House. Our committee now falls under and makes reports to the Advocacy, Service, and Justice Commission of the diocese. Work has proceeded on the development of a new parish survey for environmental concerns. We hope to complete it this fall.

Although one new member has joined us in the current year, our numbers are decreasing, as is the overall support of environmental protection measures in the population at large. The political climate regarding environmental concerns is not positive, and new efforts must be made to recapture the ascendancy in this regard. Our committee invites members of the Diocese of Pennsylvania to join us in our efforts to proclaim and promote the principles and programs of environmental stewardship outlined in our Handbook of Parish Environmental Stewardship. The committee also has copies of a study course produced by the national church, One

God, Family, Earth: Responding to the Gifts of God's Creation, which are available to congregations interested in exploring the dimensions of the environmental crisis. Please call 610-688-1313 (St. Mary's, Wayne) if you are interested in joining our efforts to save Mother Earth.

The Rev. Raymond Atlee

APPENDIX 32: RE 12D: COMMITTEE TO COMBAT RACISM

The Committee to Combat Racism established six goals for 1995-96:

1) To provide materials for a diocesan-wide Lenten focus on the "Sin of Racism" and to sponsor a conference addressing this topic. A study guide was developed for each congregation's use and a conference was held on the first Saturday of Lent, 1994, as we began this focus. The offering from the Eucharist at the close of the conference was designated for the Absalom Jones Memorial Fund for the Recruitment and Training of Ethnic Minority Seminarians. The total amount given to this fund was $900. The response to this conference and the study guide have been encouraging, and we urge each congregation to continue to use the guide and the suggested resources in an ongoing effort to learn about and respond to the sin of racism. A task group is exploring the possibility of another conference.
2) To provide training on a deanery level that would assist congregations in their efforts to combat racism. A task group will be focusing on this effort and has already contacted the deans.
3) To increase awareness of race-related social problems and to encourage appropriate action. Working closely with the Rev. Lynn Lampman, Coordinator of Advocacy for Episcopal Community Services and the diocese, the committee will continue to keep abreast of issues and suggest actions that can be taken by congregations.
4) To join with other denominations in an ecumenical effort to combat racism. A task group is exploring ways that we can join with such groups as Philadelphia Interfaith Action, the Children's Defense Fund, and the Women of Faith task force of the Metropolitan Christian Council of Philadelphia.

The committee also has voted to sponsor a multi-ethnic religious art show during the 1997 General Convention, which will meet in Philadelphia. This project will celebrate the gifts, talents, and skills of African Americans, Hispanics, Asian Americans, Native Americans, and other ethnic groups. Planning is under way for this project.

5) To encourage and assist congregations of different ethnic composition to worship, learn, and work together. The Lenten study guide, "Building Community," began this process, and a task group continues to work on assisting congregations in this effort.
6) To assist the diocese in creating a time and talent pool that reflects the diversity of the diocese in all its activities. A task group will work with the diocese and the Commission on Advocacy, Service and Justice to accomplish this.

The Committee to Combat Racism asks for your prayers, your action, and your commitment. The only response we can have is from our Baptismal Covenant: To see Christ in every person.

Sandra Pickering, Chair

APPENDIX 33: RE 12E: DIOCESAN FURNITURE MINISTRY

After four years of service to the diocese as a project of the Refugee Committee, the Diocesan Furniture Ministry has been upgraded to an active ministry in its own right, under the umbrella of the Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission, as of May of 1995. A steering committee of nine persons will guide its future growth.

The Furniture Ministry collects recyclable furniture and household goods throughout the five-county diocesan area and distributes these items to needy families referred by Episcopal Community Services, the Refugee Committee, and any congregation or shelter of the diocese. The persons served are often formerly homeless families going into their first home; refugees arriving from abroad; released prisoners from the St. Dismas congregation at Graterford; victims of fire and other natural disasters; abused women, etc. Most need everything at once, an overwhelming challenge.

This project of Christian recycling is run completely by volunteers, with the recipients doing much of the physical labor. The referring agencies/churches bear the relatively minimal costs of transportation and insurance.

We are currently looking for drop-off storage locations in the Doylestown and Coatesville areas, as well as names of strong persons throughout the diocese willing to lend a hand with loading and unloading from time to time, for short periods, as the need arises.

There are great free resources "out there" (often otherwise headed for landfills) and a crying need by many families for the basics of life. If you would like to help us be the "middlepersons" in the process, please call:

Barbara Irving, Furniture Ministry Coordinator, 610/566-4851
Peggy Schneider, Assistant Coordinator, 610/645-0522
Nancy Iredale, Furniture Committee Chair, 215/572-6954
Nancy Iredale, Chair

APPENDIX 34: RE 12F: ADDICTION AND RECOVERY COMMITTEE

The Addiction and Recovery Committee has been purposefully and prayerfully reformulating its mission and program this past year. Changes in our membership prompted a review and revision of our mission statement, which now reads as follows:

The Addiction and Recovery Committee serves the Diocese of Pennsylvania by providing a ministry of hope to all who suffer from the disease of addiction. The Committee specifically addresses the following areas:

1. presents focused prevention and education programs both to the congregations and institutions of the diocese and to the larger community.
2. establishes linkages with the broader therapeutic and ministering community.
3. develops programs of spiritual nurture for those affected by addiction.

Implicit in this revision is the conviction that there are a number of manifestations of addiction beyond the obvious and well-recognized diseases of alcoholism and narcotics addiction about which there is also profound concern (food, sex, relationship, and gambling addictions, for instance).

In addition, we determined that the use of resources to produce the traditional annual, full-day training conference with renowned speakers, although well-conceived and organized, needed to be re-examined. The committee has decided to concentrate on smaller, less costly, and shorter workshops and training events for members of the diocesan Recovery Advocates Network, as well as people from congregations and others from the community in fields related to addictions recovery.

Other objectives for the current program year include producing our own quiet days/retreats (e.g., March 30, 1996—save the date) as well as providing information about those offered by others; supplying information and printed resources, including the annual Addiction and Drug-Abuse Sunday materials, in response to special requests and at diocesan events, particularly at Diocesan Convention*; promulgation of diocesan policy about the use and serving of alcohol and related matters; representation of the committee (currently by Linda Rogers) on the Bishop's pastoral care advisory committee; providing speakers and workshop leaders for parish programs; sponsoring consultations about the need for prevention, education, and intervention within the context of a congregation or the diocese.

ARC continues its affiliation with the National Episcopal Coalition on Alcohol and Drugs (NECAD), which has been renamed Recovery Ministries of the Episcopal Church, Inc.

The Rev. Stephen R. Billings, Chair

APPENDIX 35: RE 12G: CHILD ADVOCACY TASK FORCE

Child advocates began work this year to encourage the diocesan churches and their members to be pro-active leaders and collaborators on child advocacy issues. We operate on the premise that it is the moral imperative for people of faith to advocate for adequate food, shelter, health, education, and happiness of all children (not to mention that this was a 1994 General Convention resolution (B-017a). The seed for this task force was planted when the diocese sent six people to the 1994 Episcopal Child Advocacy Conference and the Children's Defense Fund Conference. The work gained momentum when the Rev. Lynn Lampman joined Episcopal Community Services staff as coordinator of advocacy and offered significant resource support.

In May 1995, Diocesan Child Advocacy Task Force work began with a brainstorming session attended by 23 people involved in this work. The group brainstormed about what churches are doing in child advocacy, what they should be doing but aren't yet, and what resources our diocese can offer to assist child advocacy efforts. Those present also discussed obstacles that might confront diocesan child advocacy efforts.

Several people from that session offered to continue to develop the advocacy agenda, and several other people joined them to shape the brainstorming information into a mission statement and goals:

Mission Statement:

We, the Child Advocacy Task Force of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, will make visible an action plan with congregations of this diocese to insure justice for children and youth based on our baptismal promise ("We will strive for justice and peace among all people, and respect the dignity of every human being." BCP, p. 305) and the biblical injunction: "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them; for such is the kingdom of heaven," Matthew 19:14.

Goals:

- To educate the congregations of the diocese on the needs of children and hold before the Church its responsibility to advocate and seek justice for all children.
- To identify and respond to the needs of children in our communities.
- To advocate on behalf of all children by reforming public policy.

Bishop Franklin Turner appointed Joan Mechlin as chair of the Child Advocacy Task Force's steering committee and appointed the following people to serve one-year terms: Jackie Negron, Christine Helen Dorsey, the Rev. James Shannon, Mary Hickert Herring, Niki Taylor, Frances Wilson, Caral Firestone, Helen White, Kate Maus, Frances Clark, Dana Toedtman, and the Rev. Robyn Szoke. At the time of this report, work groups were being formed to develop the objectives for each goal.

Mary Hickert Herring

APPENDIX 36: RE 13: DIOCESAN REFUGEE COMMITTEE

In refugee work, this is the year of advocacy. Locally we are helping a young Liberian appeal his denial of asylum. He had watched his father being killed by the controlling rebel forces, who tied his elbows behind his back until his chest split open. We also are helping a large African family recover donated bicycles which were taken by our local police from their yard, in their presence, when they could not produce the sales receipts.

We questioned our government's inaction in the face of "ethnic cleansing," as we also welcomed three Bosnian families to the Greater Philadelphia area. St. Andrew's, Yardley, has taken the lead in our diocese by sponsoring the first Bosnian family. In an area with little "affordable housing," public transportation, and few speakers of Serbo-Croatian, their step of faith was met with a local translator, donated housing, and jobs for all.

Believing that refugees need rescue, not control, we are currently joining a national lobbying coalition of Christian agencies to advocate against the restrictive measures proposed in Senate bill S. 269 and House bill HR. 1915. Restrictive measures are rightly used against illegal entry. Refugees, a most vulnerable population, should not be included in these punitive laws. We experience firsthand that when a Christian stands for justice, it means in court, at the police station, and in a Senator's office.

This year we welcomed 44 refugees from Bosnia, the Ukraine, Azerbaydzhan, Burma, Moldova, and Siberia. We hope to include Haitians in that list and are waiting for a church to express interest. The Refugee Committee provides training and support throughout the process of sponsorship. Refugees are survivors who are eager to become self-sufficient as quickly as possible. Sponsors find the rewards of sponsorship well worth the effort.

I recently returned from a pilgrimage to Israel and was most taken by the extreme modesty of the places where Jesus spent His life: the tiny synagogue where he learned the Scriptures, and the obscure lake around which His ministry was centered. I am encouraged to know that in God's hands, the tide turns on minuscule occurrences of love, peace, and justice. Refugee work is a chance to make that difference.

Barbara Irving, Coordinator

APPENDIX 37: RE 14: COMMISSION ON MINISTRY

Purpose of the Commission:

The Commission on Ministry advises the Bishop in the planning and coordination of recruitment, preparation, affirmation, utilization, and nurture of the four orders of ministry in order to meet the needs of the Church in mission. In order to accomplish this purpose the commission comprises four committees:

Committee on the Ministry of the Laity

The purpose of the Committee on the Ministry of the Laity is to assist the diocesan family to encourage and equip all baptized persons to live fully the one ministry of Christ to which all are called.

Committee on the Ordination Process

This group previously functioned under the name Commission on Ministry. Under the new structure it will continue its previous activities: advising the Bishop on the suitability of persons for ordination to the priesthood and diaconate, and working with the Academic Sub-Committee and the Standing Committee in ensuring that all canonical qualifications have been satisfied.

Committee on the Ministry of Deacons

This group previously functioned under the name Diaconate Committee. Under the new structure it will continue its previous activities: promoting the understanding of diaconal ministry, supporting deacons, and working collaboratively with the coordinator for training and formation.

Committee on the Ministry of Priests

The Committee has not formed as yet, but most of its constituent parts do exist including: The Advisory Committee on Deployment; The Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions; The Pastoral Care Committee; The Continuing Education Committee; The Intern Program; The New Ministry Conference; Sexual Conduct Task Force; and other groups, both formal/official, and ad hoc.

The Commission on Ministry meets at least three times a year as an advisory body to the Bishop:

- to be a forum for interaction with the Bishop on the issues of ministry;
- to provide opportunity for each member committee to share its work and together to reflect on interrelatedness of the Commission;
- to continue to deepen our understanding of ministry through Bible study and other sharing;
- to examine the issues and processes of the practice of ministry;
- to be a continuing source of inspiration and challenge for the member committees;
- to explore and to model relationships between the four orders of ministry.

Structure:

The Commission on Ministry includes the two bishops, a staff person, and one representative from each of the above four committees (The Committee on the Ordination Process will be represented by two people, the chair and one of the members of the Standing Committee assigned to work with that committee); the convener; and up to three members-at-large appointed by the Bishop. The term of membership will be for three years with a possible reappointment for a second term.

The Rev. Lloyd H. Winter, Jr., Convener

APPENDIX 38: RE 15: EVANGELISM COMMITTEE

The ministry of the diocesan Evangelism Committee is exercised by 20 committed members, both laity and clergy, and Ginger Goodrich, assistant to the Bishop for evangelism and stewardship.

We carry out our charge: "to assist and equip parishes to make disciples for Jesus Christ" by offering a variety of opportunities for individuals, parishes, and deaneries in our diocese.

In the past year this has included: conducting the Evangelism School for the Bucks Deanery; leading workshops for individual parishes and co-sponsoring a number of events in our diocese, e.g., "The Inviting Church" with Roy Oswald (co-sponsored with St. Thomas', Whitemarsh); "Spirituality as the Key to Evangelism," with Br. Robert Hugh (co-sponsored with St. John the Evangelist, Essington); and the Diocesan Prayer Conference with Bishop Bartlett (co-sponsored with the Spiritual Growth Resources Committee).

Our growing collaboration with other groups reflects our belief that evangelism is an essential and integral part of living a holistic life fully rooted in Jesus Christ. This collaborative approach brings a deeper renewal within our committee, as well as enrichment to others, as we seek to serve by spreading the Good News.

We are available as facilitators, to assist with vestry and parish planning, by helping parishes develop an evangelism approach that "fits" a particular congregation and builds on its gifts and strengths.

We look forward to another year of sharing the challenges and excitement of evangelism with our brothers and sisters in this diocese.

We give thanks to our Bishops for their continued encouragement and leadership and to the parishes and individuals who have shared in this ministry.

The Rev. Mary E. Laney, Chair

APPENDIX 39: RE 16: STEWARDSHIP COMMITTEE

"The stewardship committee assists the Bishop in facilitating the development of faithful stewardship in the Diocese of Pennsylvania." These words summarize the mission of this committee. In the past year, both new and familiar challenges have presented themselves to Ginger Goodrich, the Bishop's assistant for evangelism and stewardship, and the lay and clergy members of the committee.

Much committee time and energy focuses on education: our own continuing stewardship education and creating opportunities for others in the diocese. Two major educational opportunities in 1995 were a clergy day on stewardship in February, led by the Rev. Dennis Maynard, and a Saturday workshop in April to assist stewardship committees in planning an effective pledging program. Representatives from 53 parishes/missions attended these two events.

This year has brought the new task of preparing recommendations in response to reports by the Long-Range Planning Committee and the Task Force on Diocesan Funding.

Thanks to retiring committee members Jan Baker and Jessie Johnson. Welcome to the Rev. Milton Cole and the Rev. Christopher Moore.

As the committee seeks to be a pro-active, visible resource, we plan to host diocesan-wide educational events along with developing programs for vestries, adult forums, and other interested groups.

The Rev. Nancy M. Stroh

APPENDIX 40: RE 17: KEARSLEY

Our most exciting news this year at Kearsley is that the construction for our Continuum of Care is almost complete! Our ribbon-cutting ceremony will be on November 18, and we are very pleased that Lord Robert Runcie, retired Archbishop of Canterbury, will join us for this special, historic event.

We are proud to report that the financing for our continuum is complete, and that our capital campaign, The Campaign for Kearsley Care, is progressing steadily. Our project required a variety of sources of funding and financing, all of which were first-time endeavors for Kearsley: government grants and loans, Federal Low Income Housing Tax Credits requiring a corporate investor, and a bond issue. During this past year we closed on all our government funding, and our bond issue was swiftly sold in the spring. Our campaign volunteers are energetically working to reach our private fundraising goal of $3.8 million.

Our Continuum will open in December and is a precedent-setting, unique resource for low-income older adults and their families. Here's why: three distinct services are offered, all at Kearsley:

- 87 subsidized apartments for independent older adults,
- 60 studio apartments of housing with support services (personal care) for residents needing daily assistance, and an
- 84 bed nursing home, for those needing continuous nursing care.

Our continuum offers significant advantages:

- No entrance fee is charged and monthly fees are on a sliding scale;
- When residents' needs do change and they require additional care, they don't have to move to another location. Residents will remain at Kearsley, with their friends in familiar surroundings.

Many life care and retirement communities throughout the United States offer continuums of care. However, few, if any organizations provide continuums of care for low-income older adults. Kearsley's continuum is a vital resource for today's older adults and is a national model for other organizations, church groups, and communities seeking compassionate and quality ways to serve the needs of older people who have limited finances.

Right now we are actively sharing this exciting news with consumers and their families, referral sources, health care providers, community groups, and churches throughout the Delaware Valley. This is an unprecedented opportunity for people searching for quality housing or long-term-care services for low-income older adults. Studio apartments in our personal care division and private and semi-private rooms in our nursing home are available, as well as a limited number of studio and one-bedroom apartments for independent residents.

If you would like to arrange for us to visit your church or group, or if you know someone who might need our services, please call Jerry Schneider, Kearsley's marketing coordinator, at 215-877-1565. We are truly continuing the Kearsley pioneering spirit and would welcome the opportunity of sharing our new campus with you!

APPENDIX 41: RE 18: COMMITTEE ON INCORPORATION

The Committee on Incorporation submits the following report to the 212th Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

1. Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge

The committee has reviewed the Amended and Restated Articles of Confederation of "Washington Memorial Chapel."

The committee finds that the Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation of this church substantially conform with Model Articles of Incorporation adopted by the Convention of 1991. Therefore, pursuant to Canon 1.4.1, the Articles need not be submitted to the Convention for approval, but are reported to the Convention.

2. All Hallows' Church, Wyncote

The Revised and Restated Articles are substantially the same as the Model Articles of Incorporation adopted by the Convention of 1991, except as to Article 9, "Property," which reflects the requirements of the Deed and Trust by William W. Frazier and his wife, Harriet M. Frazier, dated March 12, 1984, and recorded June 15, 1984, which gave and conveyed the land to the Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. This property is now being used by All Hallows' Church, Wyncote, for religious worship and for other church purposes.

The Articles, as revised and restated, including the references to the Deed and Trust of William W. Frazier, et ux, are, in the committee's opinion, in substantial conformity with the form and purposes of the Model Articles of Incorporation and are therefore reported to the Convention.

Harry C. Barbin, Esq., Chair

APPENDIX 42: RE 19: COMMITTEE ON AGING

The committee has maintained close ties with the Episcopal Society for Ministry on Aging (ESMA) and has representation from the Dolphins of Delaware Valley.

We were dropped from the diocesan budget for 1995, so activities were curtailed. (ESMA also was dropped from the national church budget.)

The following activities took place:

- A workshop on "Reminiscencing," a useful tool in communicating with shut-ins, was held in October 1994 at St. Paul's, Levittown. The videotape produced by the American Association of Retired Persons was purchased by the committee and made available to the Audio-Visual Resource Library; the tape also was used by the Dolphins at their spring training.
- A workshop on aging was organized and co-led with the ESMA designee from the Diocese of Central Pennsylvania at the Province III Ministries Fair in June at Hagerstown, Maryland.
- The fourth Annual Clergy Widow's Tea was hosted in April at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Chestnut Hill.

For the first time in 12 years, no delegate was sent to the annual Province III meeting on aging. However, the committee continues to provide information to older persons and their families on retirement and nursing homes, and to gather and disseminate information on the issues of aging.

Members are Dr. Emma Lou Benignus; the Rev. Marjorie Farmer; the Rev. Ann Hockridge; Sister Marion; Mrs. Sally Pritchard; Mrs. Karey B. Smith; Mr. George Soule; Mr. Philip Ritter, Dolphins liaison; and Mrs. Nancy Ritter, Chair.

APPENDIX 43: RE 20: COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND PROPERTY

This committee of Diocesan Council meets monthly to address matters pertaining to the financial and property concerns of the diocese as prescribed by diocesan canons.

As reported to the 211th convention, a subcommittee was formed to review property and liability insurance held by congregations in the diocese. This subject proved to be much more complex than originally anticipated. At one time it was thought that a master policy covering all congregations could be developed, but this plan fell through. Eventually the committee recommended three insurance companies which are considered capable of providing adequate insurance for our congregations.

In January 1995 the committee met jointly with the Program Budget Committee to address a large shortfall at the end of 1994. It was decided to address $76,000 of the shortfall in 1995 by seeking more pledge income than originally estimated and increasing other income; also a large emphasis was placed on controlling expenses.

The Task Force on Funding Diocesan Ministries, appointed by Bishop Bartlett, reported its findings to Diocesan Council in February 1995: Council commended the report to Finance and Property for study and implementation. Several subcommittees were formed to study this material, and as a result, a number of new practices and procedures have been implemented or re-emphasized. As requested, results of this work have been reported back to Diocesan Council.

The new Long-Range Plan of the diocese contains a section relating to "Stewardship of Church Property and Buildings." A subcommittee has been appointed to implement this section. A report has been prepared presenting the steps to be taken to help parishes perform timely maintenance and to monitor all buildings for structural integrity and safety.

Our canons mandate that health insurance be provided for retired clergy. In the past this item of expense has been part of our program budget. The Program Budget Committee has recommended that this item be taken out of the program budget, since it bears little relationship to the program of the diocese. Finance and Property, in accordance with diocesan canons, has transferred the funding of this item from the budget to an assessment upon all congregations.

The committee approved the program budget for 1996 as proposed by the Program Budget Committee; this was then forwarded to Diocesan Council for its approval, which was granted at Council's June meeting.

APPENDIX 44: RE 21: NATIONAL ORGANIZATION OF EPISCOPALIANS FOR LIFE (NOEL)

Believing that human beings are created in the image and likeness of God, the National Organization of Episcopalians for Life holds that all human life is sacred and Christians are commissioned by their faith to strive for ecclesiastical, social, and moral responsibility in all matters concerning the protection of human existence.

In light of the above excerpt from NOEL's statement of philosophy, we have striven this past year to serve our Lord by financially and spiritually supporting many unwed mothers both directly and through local crisis pregnancy centers.

Bake sales have been held as well as baby/maternity showers. NOEL has been instrumental in providing free day care through St. John's, Huntingdon Valley, for a mother attending Philadelphia College of the Bible to enhance her possibilities for employment.

NOEL was represented as a "Non-Governmental Organization" at the Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing, China, this past summer.

Plans are that we will be continuing our ministry through a diocesan chapter in the fall. We welcome all who feel a commitment to the sanctity of human life and are interested in serving those who face a crisis pregnancy.

APPENDIX 45: RE 22: STANDING COMMITTEE

The Standing Committee meets each month and follows a stated agenda which begins with a two-way consultation with the Bishop and usually includes items concerning real estate and trust matters, mission endowment funds, candidates for ordination, episcopal elections, and finance and property matters. The following is a summary of activities from November 1994 to June 1995.

The Committee reorganized itself for the 1994-95 year with the following assignments: Louis Temme, President; William Scarborough, Secretary; William Wood, Chair of Ordinations; Harry Toland, Chair of Real Estate and Trust matters; William Scarborough, Chair of Episcopal Elections; Philip Howse, Chair of Mission Endowment; Isaac Miller, Chair of Finance and Property.

Highlights of Standing Committee actions this year include:

Real Estate and Trust

Approved leases at St. Thomas', Whitemarsh, and St. John's, Huntingdon Valley. Approved the sale of the rectory at St. Matthew's, Maple Glen, and property at St. Nathanael's, and at St. Philip's, Lombard Street. Approved a mortgage at St. Matthew's, Maple Glen.

Endowment and Mission Funds

During 1994-95, the committee approved the following grants: $23,000 to Christ Church and St. Ambrose for work in the community; $50,000 for Philadelphia Interfaith Action; $3,000 to Calvary St. Paul for the rental of a van; $7,500 to the Dolphins; $20,000 to St. Andrew and St. Monica for the Lighthouse Youth Program; $3,500 to the Seamen's Church Institute for the Seafarer's Cross Project; $50,000 to Trinity Memorial Church for upgrading its facilities after a fire; $56,000 for a part-time diocesan education and activities coordinator for the General Convention to be held in Philadelphia in 1997; $25,000 to Episcopal Community Services to support the first year's cost for a coordinator of advocacy; an annual grant of $65,000 to ECS; and $10,000 for the tercentenary celebration of Christ Church, Philadelphia.

Candidates for Ordination:

Approved for ordination to the vocational diaconate: Cicely Anne Murray, Pamela Nesbitt, Robert Richie, and Robert Miller. Approved for ordination to the transitional diaconate: Frederick Watson, Frank Shea, Patricia Cashman, Frank Allen, Barbara Lewis, and Robert Brooks. Approved for ordination to the priesthood: Ann Hockridge and Amy Richter.

Episcopal Elections:

Gave consent to the holding of an election in Southwest Florida, Texas, North Carolina, Connecticut, West Texas, and South Carolina. Consented to the consecration of the following as bishops of the Church: Dorsey F. Henderson in Upper South Carolina; Clarence W. Hayes in Panama; and Robert W. Ihloff in East Carolina.

Finance and Property:

Approved a budget of $700,870 for the Episcopate and the corresponding assessment. Heard regular reports about the funding of diocesan program and budget.

William G. Scarborough, Secretary

APPENDIX 46: RE 23: COMMISSION ON ECUMENICAL AND INTERFAITH ACTIVITIES

It is not often that one has an opportunity to be a part of a significant moment in history. The Concordat of Agreement between the Episcopal Church and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America makes a revolutionary proposal. For the first time since the days of the Reformation and the religious turmoil of the 16th century, our two Churches, each part of world-wide confessional families, have the God-given opportunity to enter into a relationship of full communion. Prior to the ecumenical dialogue of which the Concordat is the final and conclusive step, Lutherans and Episcopalians in the United States never shared the Lord's Supper. They were never able to receive from one another the eucharistic bread which makes Christ's followers one with Him.

At the General Convention in 1997 right here in Philadelphia, we shall have the opportunity to change that situation. The Lutherans will have a similar opportunity for they, too, will be meeting in Philadelphia in 1997 and will vote on whether or not to approve the Concordat of Agreement.

Your commission is a co-sponsor of Table Talk I on October 31 in order to (1) meet with and get to know our Lutheran colleagues and (2) to familiarize ourselves with what the Concordat actually proposes. Dr. Dan Stevick and Dr. Gordon Lathrop will be the speakers. The second round of discussion, Table Talk II, will be on January 25, 1996. Watch for this announcement.

It is important to know and understand that the Concordat is the result of almost 20 years of discussion. Several preliminary reports have been produced. Several affirmative actions by General Conventions have taken place. Now we are asked to study the Concordat. That is what Table Talk Conferences are all about—to make us aware of the issues, so that in 1997 we can vote knowledgeably and intelligently. This task, to make the Concordat known and understood, is the top priority of the commission for the next two years.

The Lutheran clergy have all received the document from their national office. The Episcopal Church has not done this, and so each priest must buy the document from Forward Movement Publications (cost is $4.95). The document you want is entitled Toward Full Communion and Concordat of Agreement. The opening section gives one an historical background and some supporting essays. The actual Concordat is the second section of the booklet. The whole document ought to be read. If you have any questions, please call or write to me.

The Rev. Dr. Charles J. Wissink, Ecumenical Officer

APPENDIX 47: RE 24: DIOCESAN COUNCIL

Concerning the Nominating Committee for Executive Committee and the Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions:

The Bishop appointed Frances Wilson, Chair; Michael Knight; and Sally Pritchard.

APPENDIX 48: RE 25: TASK FORCE ON THE CHURCH AND PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

In our informal observations, surveys, and as shown in the Diocesan Directory, more churches and facilities are making a conscious effort to become accessible for persons with disabilities. It is noted, however, that even with this effort approximately two-thirds of our churches and facilities are not designated as accessible for persons with physical disabilities.

It is our goal that all available resources will be used to make reasonable accommodations to enable persons with physical disabilities and those with mental illnesses to become active members of our congregations.

More persons with disabilities have become active members of our congregations as priests, deacons, and lay leaders. If there were more understanding and acceptance from our congregations, and less reluctance and fear of rejection on the part of persons with disabilities, then persons with disabilities would become more active members of our congregations.

We want to help make available alternate means of communication for persons with communication disabilities in the areas of hearing, seeing, writing, and speaking. More churches and religious programs are providing alternate means of communication for persons with these disabilities, but more resources need to be readily available so that those who attend services or other functions will find such resources available upon request. This will enable more complete participation of persons with these specific disabilities in our churches.

We want to help everyone to see that we can follow Christ's example of "Loving thy Neighbor" by accepting and incorporating persons with disabilities and mental illnesses as fully participating members of Christ's Church.

More education is needed to help the people of our congregations understand and accept persons with disabilities and learn how to incorporate them into the Church. The task force is ready and eager to help with this process. Using persons with disabilities as resources and consultants, we can teach by showing examples of what has and can be done.

The public sector is now required to comply with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act, and it seems appropriate that the religious community be accessible in every way possible. More persons with disabilities are in the mainstream of the public sector because of designated parking, ramps and accessible facilities, and the religious community needs to follow this example. If this is accomplished more people with disabilities will become active participants and contributing members of the congregations and programs of the Diocese of Pennsylvania. This task force is ready and eager to assist in this process.

Shirley B. Smith, Chair

APPENDIX 49: RE 26: THE DIOCESAN CHRISTIAN EDUCATION COMMITTEE (DCEC)

Christian Education is a life-long process. Members of the DCEC have accepted the responsibility of initiating, advocating, and strengthening Christian education for all ages. This ministry is carried out by the committee through the Christian Education Resource Center as needs of parishes and deaneries are made known and are met through a variety of specialized educational services to parish leaders, and through diocesan programs, workshops, and conferences.

Committee members are volunteer professionals who carry responsibility for parish education in their own congregations. Each is appointed by the bishop for a three-year term, following nominations by parish rectors and vicars. Others may nominate as well, subject to the approval of the rector/vicar. Three subcommittees of twelve members each represent the full scope of ministry: Children's Ministries, Youth Ministry, and Parish Adult Education for all ages. Integrated into the whole committee, they reflect a full-life process of Christian formation for every congregation.

Chair, Dana Toedtman, St. Thomas', Whitemarsh; vice-chair, Virginia Slichter, Christ Church, Pottstown; secretary, Roberta Horvath, St. Mary's, Ardmore. The following report records significant activity from September 1994 to September 1995.

APPENDIX 52: RE 29A-95: TREASURER'S REPORT

It is my pleasure to present the Treasurer's report, particularly since once again all the diocese's financial matters continue to be properly administered. The financial books, records, and procedures of the diocese have been thoroughly examined by the Independent Certified Public Accountants: Parente, Randolph, Orlando, Carey and Associates.

Their audit transmittal letter of June 1, 1995 concluded, and I will paraphrase, "In our opinion,...the financial statements...present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania as of December 31, 1994, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles." I should note that, as in the past, their opinion was qualified concerning one minor and technical area, relating to depreciation and amortization expenses for property and equipment. While it is not customary for churches to depreciate or amortize their property or equipment, the accountants, in conformity with strict accounting standards, have properly qualified their opinion on this topic. In essence, we received a "clean bill of health" for 1994 from the accountants.

An event came to light in early 1995 that was most unfortunate. We all learned that the former Episcopal Church treasurer Ellen F. Cooke "used eight different methods to misappropriate funds totaling over $2.2 million." Those involved in the financial affairs of the Diocese of Pennsylvania took this news as a "wake-up call" and are actively examining all of our financial procedures. A key to our ensuring financial integrity rests with the annual audit performed by the independent certified accountants. Their staff spends considerable time at Church House each spring examining evidence supporting diocesan assets and liabilities. Close examination also is given to the proper handling of revenues and authorization of expenses. These tests include confirmation with third parties of account balances, obtaining an understanding to the diocese's internal control structure, and a review of the general and specific controls over diocesan data processing systems.

The auditors prepare an opinion on the diocese's financial statements, which was just shared with you. Importantly, they also provide both management and the Finance and Property Committee with recommendations to improve the internal control structure. They meet to review their reports with the Treasurer, chair of Finance and Property, the chair of the Executive Committee of Diocesan Council, and the Stewardship Manager, who is the person responsible for the day-to-day financial management. Bishop Bartlett closely reviews all this material. The Bishop regularly attends the monthly Finance and Property Committee meetings and is well-informed on diocesan financial matters. The audit is reviewed and accepted by the Finance and Property Committee, shared with Diocesan Council, and presented at this annual Convention. Copies of the official audit are available by contacting the Stewardship Manager, Bill Powell.

Now, it must be made clear that misappropriation of funds, either accidental or intentional, can happen anywhere or anytime. Even with the benefits of an audit, fraud and misappropriation can happen, but the chances are narrowed significantly and the timeline of discovery shortened measurably. While we painfully share the misfortune of our national Episcopal Church, we all should review the soundness of our own financial procedures and practices. Our Canon #17, titled "Of Business Methods in Church Affairs," provides ample guidance and is recommended reading to all involved in financial matters within the diocese. Your diocesan staff is intentionally reviewing and continually seeking to improve its financial procedures. Such a review is done not to question the integrity of those doing the work but to insure that we are being good stewards of what is entrusted to us to enable the work of the Church.

Turning to a different topic, "How did we do financially as a diocese last year?" On an operating basis in 1994, we had a budget of just over $3.1 million. It is our goal to end each year on a break-even basis, and we often wind up each year plus or minus a modest amount. Our budget for 1994 had a planned deficit of just over $61,000, with the understanding that expenses would be controlled very tightly, every effort would be made to encourage additional income, and investment market conditions might generate some additional earnings that the Bishop could direct towards the program budget, if necessary. It is a pleasure to inform you that when all was said and done, the final accounting adjustments made and the audit completed, we ended the year 1994 on a break-even basis. Total expenses came within $1,000 of budget. Congregational income was close to budget, and additional endowment income funds enabled a break-even year.

Turning to the current 1995 year, you have copies of our financial condition through September in your kit for review at your convenience. The 1995 budget is a break-even budget. On the expense side, we are tracking close to budget in almost every area. On the income side, we are tracking behind budget, but that is not unusual at this time of the year. We are slightly ahead of where we were at this time last year. We have every expectation that the 1995 budget will be on target.

Turning to next year, soon you will be dealing with the recommended budget for 1996. The budget has been recast to reflect the updated long-range plan, the revised asking formula, and the removal of retired clergy medical benefit expenses from the program budget into an assessment category. The diocesan budget process embraces many participants and is the result of much study and effort. The hearings provided an opportunity for further understanding and discussion. It is a well crafted document with little or no fat.

As clergy and lay deputies to this convention, when you pass this budget, either as is or as amended, you are committing your congregation to its support. In order to give the 1996 budget life, please see that your 1996 parish pledge is submitted by December 15. While this may seem difficult timing, remember, just as is true for individual pledges, so too can a parish pledge be modified or amended as necessary.

In conclusion, know that we have an outstanding team managing our finances at Church House, consisting of: Bill Powell, Stewardship Manager, Pat Carney, Karen Cellucci, and Jenny Paddy. Our thanks to them.

Andrew McA. Hunter, Treasurer

APPENDIX 54: RE 32-95: UNITY COMMISSION

The Unity Commission was established by the Bishop and the Standing Committee pursuant to the Standing Resolution on the Unity of the Church (R10-94) ("Unity Resolution"), which was passed by the 211th Convention in 1994. That resolution stated in part that "The Bishop and the Standing Committee, or an agency jointly appointed by them, will report to the Convention upon the results of any such objectives and programs approved by the Convention under authority of this resolution." Thus, the purpose of this Commission is to report on the progress made in this diocese regarding actions taken pursuant to the Unity Resolution.

The Unity Resolution does not designate a specific group or groups in the diocese to implement the resolution. The companion resolution, entitled Resolution to Carry out the Intent of Unity Resolution (R11-94), "urges" the widest participation in specified prayer, outreach and group gatherings to carry out the intent of the Unity Resolution.

The Commission met in mid-October to discuss the resolution and the results observed to date. The Commission reviewed several events which promoted the process, such as the Bishop's visitations with Synod parishes, and the various diocesan-wide conferences, including the prayer conference held in May, which indirectly promote the unity of the Church. However, the Commission concluded that little had been done in a systematic or intentional fashion to implement the Unity Resolution.

The Commission recognizes that there are impediments to the discussion of divisive issues, including a fear of confrontation and frustration over feelings of not being heard by the "opposing side." There is also a sentiment that issues have been politicized, which makes it difficult for an open dialogue to occur. The Commission believes that there is a need to focus on those things which bind the Church together before there can be meaningful dialogue on issues that separate the Church. The Christian Education Committee is developing a curriculum on our Anglican identity which may be of assistance in starting that dialogue.

The Unity Commission determined that it needs to assume a role of encouraging groups in the diocese to undertake the work set forth in resolutions R10-94 and R11-94 in a more intentional way. The Commission plans to spend the next several months identifying groups within the diocese to encourage them to undertake the types of programs which the 211th Convention identified in resolution R11-94.

The Commission members are the Rev. Mary Adebonojo, the Rev. Jesse Anderson, the Very Rev. Rodger Broadley, the Rev. Carol Chamberlain, Mr. Thomas Frearson, the Rev. David Hockensmith, Mrs. Rita Moyer, Mrs. Amanda Smoot, and Mr. William G. Scarborough.

William G. Scarborough, Chair

APPENDIX 55: RE 33-95: REPORT OF THE RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

The committee received 16 resolutions. Of these 4 are Resolutions of Courtesy (R1-2) or Commemoration (R3-4). None of the above were mailed in the resolutions packet or scheduled for hearings as they are not likely to be the subject of any controversy. Those commemorating Ordination Anniversaries (R3) and Retirements (R4) as well as the Courtesy Resolutions (R1-2) will be presented as a package for approval early in the Convention. This is the "consent calendar" procedure which we have used successfully in recent years. If a deputy knows of a reason why any of these resolutions should be heard separately, he/she should speak to the Dispatch of Business Committee (the Rev. Anne Ritchings, Chair) to have that resolution removed from the consent calendar for a separate vote.

The remaining resolutions were presented for discussion at hearings held at four locations in the diocese. The committee would like to thank all those who participated in these hearings for their time and thoughtful comments. The following is our report based on the opinions expressed at the hearings.

R-1-4 Not discussed at hearings. Approval is recommended as noted above.

R5 Canonical Change: On the Trial of a Priest or Deacon
This resolution comes from the Committee on Constitution and Canons in order to bring our diocesan canons into conformity with the revised national church canons which take effect on January 1, 1996. No opposition was expressed and approval is recommended.

R6 Canonical Change: On Clergy Compensation, Assessments & Financial Assistance
This resolution also comes from the Committee on Constitution and Canons based on a proposal by the Commission on Clergy Salaries and Pensions. It is designed to bring our canons more into conformity with actual practice and clear up some ambiguities of wording. Approval is recommended.

R7 Canonical Change: On Retired Clergy Medical Insurance
This resolution also comes from the Committee on Constitution and Canons based on a proposal by the Finance and Property Committee. It seeks to regularize the change in funding of the canonically mandated insurance for retired clergy and spouses from a program budget item to an assessment. Approval is recommended.

R8 Canonical Change: On the Interim Rector
This resolution from the Committee on Constitution and Canons is based on a proposal by a group of diocesan clergy involved with interim ministry. We have been informed that due to some possible conflicts with the national canons a revised version of this resolution (developed in consultation with the Chancellor of the diocese) is being prepared and will be presented at Convention. If a revised resolution (R8A) is available it will be included in the mailing or in the packets distributed at Convention. The intent of the resolution would remain the same. It is designed to clarify and strengthen the relationships of interim rectors to the parishes which they serve. Comments at the hearings regarding the intent of this resolution were mostly favorable, but there was some discussion of the possible conflicts with the national canons. Since the revised text was not available to the committee we can make no recommendation.

R9 On Lenten Study for 1996
This resolution was previously endorsed by Diocesan Council. There was little discussion at the hearings. Approval is recommended.

R10 On the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf
There is one small correction to the wording of this resolution. The last line of the resolved clause should read "in our diocese and elsewhere." No opposition was expressed at the hearings. Approval is recommended.

R11 On a Companion Diocese Relationship
This resolution seeks the support of Convention for the decision of the Diocesan Council to enter into a new companion diocese relationship. Comments regarding this resolution were generally favorable. Approval is recommended.

R12 On Community-Based Economic Development Programs.
This resolution from the Commission on Advocacy, Service & Justice seeks to encourage a wider practice of investment targeted toward economic development. There were generally positive remarks at the hearings. Approval is recommended.

R13 On Inclusion of Queen Elizabeth I in the Calendar of Lesser Feasts and Fasts
This resolution was submitted by the original mover of R13-94 in response to the Liturgical Commission's statement that further study of this matter is encouraged. It proposes that the diocese hold a conference to study the subject. It does not propose that the diocese endorse the inclusion of Queen Elizabeth I in the Calendar of Lesser Feasts and Fasts. Many comments regarding this resolution at the hearings spoke to the merits of her possible inclusion rather than the merits of holding a conference. The Resolutions Committee believes that such a conference could have significant value, not only in assessing whether Queen Elizabeth I should be included in the calendar, but also in educating us all as to the process by which persons are chosen for the calendar. Approval is recommended.

RA Clergy Financial Assistance Assessment
This is a standard resolution requiring annual consideration by Convention. Approval is recommended.

RB Parish Compensation - 1996
This is a standard resolution requiring annual consideration by Convention. Approval is recommended.

R-BUD-96 Proposed Diocesan Program Budget
The budget is the result of much hard work by the Program Budget Committee, the Finance and Property Committee, and Diocesan Council. It represents the best effort these groups believe the diocese can make in the face of severe financial constraints. This year the budget has been recast in a new format to conform to the long-range plan of the diocese. There is also a new asking formula. There were no unfavorable comments at the hearings. Approval is recommended.

Addendum: The Resolutions Committee is aware, as we all are, that Bishop Bartlett will be calling for the election of a Bishop Coadjutor during his address to Convention. The provisions of our diocesan Standing Order IV (4) allow for the introduction of a "resolution arising out of the Bishop's address." We anticipate that such a resolution will arise this year in order for Convention to endorse the Bishop's call as it must. We expect to review the proposed text of such a resolution before it is presented for consideration, but do not envision any objection to the intent thereof.

Christopher Hart, Chair

APPENDIX 56: SPECIAL ORDER FOR DIOCESAN CONVENTION: COMMITTEE TO COMBAT RACISM

Thank you for letting the Committee to Combat Racism announce publicly, for the first time, two exciting projects that we are sponsoring with the Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission (ASJC). The first project is a professional art exhibit: a multi-ethnic, interfaith, religious art exhibit to be held at the Balch Institute for Ethnic Studies from July 1 to August 27 of 1997. The title of the exhibit is "Art and Religion: The Many Faces of Faith." The exhibit will celebrate both unity and diversity: the unity of human kinship inherent in the great religious traditions of the world, and the rich diversity of ethnic religious expressions.

As you all know, the General Convention of the Episcopal Church is meeting in Philadelphia for ten days in July of 1997. As host, our diocese expects some 10,000 delegates and perhaps another 10,000 family members, vendors, etc. [Ed. note: the actual estimated number for all persons attending General Convention is 12,000.] The General Convention offers a unique opportunity to command attention. As a means to celebrate General Convention, the Racism Committee and the Advocacy, Service and Justice Commission decided to hold this art exhibit. The primary purpose of the exhibit, however, is to combat racism and to build community.

After four meetings this summer with professionals in the art world, our plans evolved from a ten-day Episcopal event into an eight-week, interfaith event that will reach out not only to Convention members, but to all people in southeastern Pennsylvania and its nearby states. Our plan contains the following six components.

1. We will collaborate with local ethnic arts organizations to identify regional artists from various ethnic groups—particularly African-American, Native American, Latino, Asian-American, and European-American.

2. We will invite artists to submit works based on religious works for a juried show.

3. We will feature ethnic religious art work from approximately 50 artists at the exhibit—we should have around 70 to 100 pieces of art in the show.

4. We will offer the artists significant prizes and an opportunity to market their work.

5. By offering multiple perspectives on humankind and its religious beliefs, our exhibit will educate diverse audiences—help them appreciate the unity of human kinship and the richness of human diversity. We are currently developing other exciting educational possibilities for this exhibit that will extend our efforts to combat racism and to build community. For example, we might comple a slide show, a CD-Rom, or an Internet program so that parishes throughout the United States could present our art program and its text on racial understanding.

6. In addition, we are exploring collaborative ventures with other local art and cultural organizations. The Arts and Humanities Program of the Pennsylvania Prison Society, for example, has already decided to make religious its focus for the summer of 1997.

The second exciting project of the Committee to Combat Racism is a collaborative event with the professional art exhibit: it is a children's art exhibit. To generate this art, we will reach out to children in our Episcopal Sunday Schools, after-school programs, church-related day schools, youth programs, and other activities where children and young people gather. These populations include some children who have no church home or whose church home is different from ours, so that we will be reaching more than just our own youngsters. Pertinent Bible lessons will provide the theme for the day's art project, which will then take place in crayon, paint, clay, film, or some other art medium. The lesson and art combined will present opportunities for young people to think about and respond to biblical imperatives of understanding, acceptance, tolerance, and love. Such a project may involve individual, paired, or grouped congregations. Children have such a marvelous way of expressing feelings, capturing emotions, and telling truths in their art that the teaching in this project is likely to be a two-way street.

The Committee to Combat Racism will keep you informed as our plans for both these projects develop. We have been privileged to work collaboratively with many different groups and individuals both within and outside of the diocese. We ask your prayers and your partnership as we seek to discern and to treasure the skills, gifts, and talents of all our brothers and sisters in Christ.

To help with this project call:

APPENDIX 57: SPECIAL ORDER FOR DIOCESAN CONVENTION: ST. DISMAS CONGREGATION

Greetings in the Name of Our Lord Jesus Christ from the St. Dismas Congregation.

As I welcome myself to this 212th Diocesan Convention of Pennsylvania, I want to extend my sincere thanks for the vision of the diocese in creating an Episcopal congregation from a chaplaincy program within the walls of Graterford Prison. There are a lot of people who also deserve thanks: the Revs. Peyton Craighill, John Scott, Patricia Oglesby, and George Master. Also let us not forget the ever-so-important lay volunteers—and in addition, Episcopal Community Services and the Rev. Barbara Duncan.

I am looking forward to a prosperous ministry at Graterford. Upon my arrival and going through the red tape at Graterford, our mission was assigned two and a half days a week. But as most of us know, with the shakeup at the prison, all volunteer activities have been suspended. I am still permitted to go in only on Tuesday mornings for Bible Study and the Celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

I am very optimistic that when everything gets back to normal we would be assigned more days. Our diocese has an opportunity to build a wonderful mission inside the walls of Graterford. The most pressing need at present is to build up the mission, and this is where I need your support. First of all, we need some New English Study Bibles, and I ask that the congregations and members continue your support of St. Dismas. As you may not be aware, St. Dismas is one of only three prison congregations in the United States.

As I continue in this ministry your continued support and prayer are needed. For further information I can be reached at 215-985-0360.

Thanks for your time. May God continue to bless you. God's peace to all.

The Rev. Julius Jackson

The message from St. Dismas Mission:

Greetings in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, from St. Dismas Mission congregation at Graterford Prison. Though the obvious circumstances of our incarceration prevent us from being there to personally fellowship with you all on this special day, please know that we are with you in spirit and pray for the success of our Convention.

We are happy to report on our efforts to develop St. Dismas Mission to meet the spiritual needs of our congregation and any of the inmates in the prison population who come to us for assistance. We have been able to accomplish a few goals.

We were able to begin our "Adventures in Attitudes" program, which helps the men to get in touch with their feelings/attitudes, the positive and the negative, which cause the conflicts in the different areas of their lives. This program is a preparation for the inmate's release.

We were also blessed to have a workshop on "Parenting Skills, Substance Abuse and Support for Kids with Incarcerated Parents." We are confident that we will have many other types of workshops geared toward the spiritual and social development of the inmate for his re-entry back into society.

Many of the men here donated what little money they could to help send the children of St. Mary's Church in South Philadelphia on trips to the Philadelphia Zoo and to the beach at Wildwood, New Jersey, and all the children were able to enjoy many of the amusement rides. St. Dismas Mission also has a new vicar, Rev. Julius Jackson, who is also the vicar for St. Mary's Church, and this yokes us together which is a good thing, because many of the men in our congregation did not have a home church.

In closing we would like to mention that in our efforts to bring all types of positive education/information to the men we invite any of you who have professional skills and life experiences that you know would enhance our lives to come to our mission with your offerings. We believe that what you can offer to us will help us to live better lives and to make positive contributions to society and communities. You can make arrangements to visit us through Fr. Jackson or you can write to me at the address below: all letters will receive a response. Thank you all for your time and attention while this letter has been read to you. God bless, and enjoy our Convention.

Write to: William Gravely, AF-9393, P.O. Box 244, Graterford, PA 19426.

Prayerfully yours,

William Gravely, Secretary, St. Dismas Mission
